Electric School Heating Accepted

New Junior High on Wein Tract to be 1st With Electric Heat

Granite City will have its first all electric school with construction of the new junior high school on the Wein tract, according to a decision reached by the board of education Monday night.

The decision was made on the recommendation of consulting engineers in view of the inavailability of natural gas service for the construction site.

The only exception to the all electric design is a liquefied petroleum service for use with the building trash incinerator and the possible future installation of liquefied petroleum services for laboratory facilities.

Belt & Given Consulting Engineers Inc. of St. Louis said use of electric energy will represent about an 18% per year increase in annual operating cost but would keep the initial construction price within the present construction budget, and this would not be possible with any other fuel.

Natural Gas Dilemma
Though natural gas for the school initially was promised by Illinois Power, the utility claims it will have insufficient sources and currently has under consideration by the Illinois Commerce Commission a request to establish a priority system, giving schools and hospitals a low priority.

Local school administrators presented objections at one round of hearings at Springfield, and William Schooley, board attorney, reported that additional hearings are set for Oct. 7, 8 and 9.

He said an answer is not expected before the first of the year, and appeal of the decision by ICC examiners is likely to be tied up in the courts for up to another couple of years.

Decrease in Costs
Tully Huebner, director of buildings and grounds, said only one other all electric school exists in Illinois, a 12-year-old structure at Cicero, and that his counterpart there had reported that in nine of the 12 years, there has been a decrease in operating expenses. Others in Missouri have presented similar comments, he added.

Based upon nine months use, Huebner estimated electric costs on the Wein tract at $37,085, compared to $31,600 if natural gas could be used, while utilities operating costs for Grigsby and Frohhardt schools, similar in size, for 1970, was set at $27,687.

The projected cost by Union Electric Co., which would be less than a cent per kilowatt-hour, would be $22,798 for lighting and miscellaneous and $21,748 for fans, air conditioning, hot water heat and classroom heating, for a total of $44,546. Of that amount, $14,429 would be for heating.

EMERGENCY RADIO NETWORK is shown being used by an Illinois state trooper. Granite City and many other cities as well as a number of counties have the new units in operation and applications by Madison and Venice are awaiting state funding. The first car-to-car police radio network in the U. S. is used in emergencies, such as disasters or the capture of fleeing criminals.

Police 'Hot Line' Stopping Crimes And Saving Lives

A small red microphone in police cars throughout Illinois is proving itself to be both a life-saver and a crime-stopper. The red "mike" is linked to a statewide high band radio frequency known as the Illinois State Police Emergency Radio Network (ISPERN). A program of the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement, it is designed to establish, for the first time, a common communication bond between all police units in Illinois. (Granite City police vehicles have ISPERN units and Madison and Venice police hope to receive similar units soon.)

Law enforcement Director Herbert D. Brown reports there are 552 law enforcement agencies presently participating in this new program. A $2 million grant from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission enabled the Department to purchase the first 3045 mobile radio units needed to make the system operative.

These initial units, designed by the General Electric Co., have been assigned and delivered to agencies throughout the state. Through the grant, the Department of Law Enforcement is able to provide the radio units at no cost to participating agencies. Brown said. Participants need only pay the cost of installation and maintenance of the units and provide power.

'Constitution Grants Home Rule'

Government Would Have Flexibility It Needs, Delegates Say

The proposed Illinois State Constitution offers many improvements to residents, taxpayers, firms and organizations and has a fine chance of being ratified by voters Nov. 3, two delegates said Tuesday night. Wendell Durr, Edwardsville attorney, and Raymond Johnson, Troy accountant, addressed the Metro-East Chamber of Commerce Association at a dinner meeting at the Round Table restaurant.

Durr noted that, even though 116 delegates worked the proposed new state governmental charter, the word "constitution" was misspelled in the first 117 copies produced—one for each delegate and one official copy which the delegates signed.

Despite the spelling error, the document is one which merits voters' support, he said. It is 4500 words shorter than the 1870 Illinois Constitution now in effect. Changes were made in all but one section, the one pertaining to use of public tax funds for education.

By retaining the exact wording, the delegates have sought to avoid involving passage or defeat of the constitution with the public-proportion school issue. Proponents of both sides of the school debate feel the document is a native of Granite City and attended element.

GOP Senators Tour Area For Smith; Rally Sept. 27

The state-wide campaign for re-election of U. S. Sen. Ralph T. Smith (R-Alton) stepped up sharply this week as nearly 800 GOP party faithful turned out for a fund-raising dinner at Southern Illinois University-Southern Monday night, and plans were announced today for a Quad-City area "homecoming" celebration in the senator's honor.

At the same time an entourage of Republican senators continued campaigning for Sen. Smith in various parts of the state. Four U. S. senators held a press conference at Civic Memorial Airport before the Monday night dinner meeting and praised Smith for his sponsorship of the Agricultural Subsidy amendments.

Although Smith was not present at the meeting at SIU-SU Monday night, he spoke briefly to the group by telephone and said that he plans to appear in Madison County "many times" during the last six weeks of the campaign.

Plan Homecoming
The senator will be the guest of honor at an "old-fashioned homecoming" celebration at Lakeside Airport from 4 to 7 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 27, as he prepares to open the final month of the election drive in the Quad-City and Madison county areas.

Plans for the affair are in charge of Madison County State's Attorney R. W. Griffith and Coroner Robert G. Thomas who said the homecoming is being arranged in honor of Smith's return to his birthplace. The senator is a native of Granite City and attended element.

Madison Aldermen Urge 1 a. m. Tavern Closing

GC Payroll Issued, But Lacks Funds In Account

A new financial problem confronted Granite City today as the result of the long-standing feud between Mayor Donald Partney and a majority bloc of the city council.

The new difficulty lies in a shortage of funds in the city's payroll account to cover $55,012 in payroll checks distributed to city employees Tuesday. The regular payroll was for the first half of the current month, Sept. 1 to 15.

The vouchers for the payroll checks were signed Monday by Mayor Partney, but in the process he discovered a check in the amount of $250 as salary payment for Leon Scroggins who still is acting as city attorney, although Scroggins has submitted a formal resignation.

The mayor said the Finance Committee of the city council which approved the payroll items had no authority to cut Scroggins' check from $250, the amount of a half-month's salary for Scroggins under last year's budget. He refused to sign that particular check.

Mayor Refuses Transfer
Later when City Treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rich submitted fund transfers for the mayor's signature, Partney refused to sign them. The fund transfers are customary procedure for transferring monies from the regular general fund accounts to the payroll account to meet wage and salary items.

Thus, city employees were in the position of cashing payroll checks for which there are no sufficient funds in the bank account for that purpose.

Rich, meanwhile, left the city on a two-week vacation. Partney said he refused to sign the fund transfers because of the Finance Committee's action in reducing the salary check for Scroggins, whom Partney has supported through almost three months of bickering by council members over Scroggins' status as city attorney.

On Monthly Basis
Alderman R. E. Robertson, chairman of the Finance Committee, said yesterday that the committee approved Scroggins salary for the half-month period on the basis of one-twelfth (monthly) of the $6000 appropriation set up in this year's budget as salary for the city attorney.

He said he was unaware of the status of the payroll account, but admitted that he had heard the mayor had not signed the fund transfers on Tuesday. "I'm sure everything will work out all right," Robertson said.

Western Union Office Robbed This Afternoon

Two men robbed the Western Union office, 1838 State street at 1:10 p.m. today and escaped with an undetermined amount of money.

No one was injured, according to early reports. Details of the robbery were not immediately available.

No Cutback Yet On Auto Frame Production Here

Despite the United Auto Workers strike against the General Motors Corp., which began early Tuesday morning, operations will remain normal this week and next week at the A. O. Smith Corp. auto frame manufacturing plant in Granite City.

Paul Kemp, plant manager, issued a statement Tuesday noting that "the A. O. Smith Corp. plants in Granite City and Milwaukee, Wis., will be affected by the strike against General Motors."

"The Granite City plant normally employs about 1200 persons and the Milwaukee plant has a total of 6500 employees. A strike of relatively short duration—two weeks or less—would have minimal immediate impact on A. O. Smith Corp. employment."

"Our company will continue to manufacture frames for inventory and to build a stockpile of frames for shipment immediately after the strike is settled. A strike of more than two weeks could force substantial layoffs of employees who work on Chevrolet frame lines," Kemp said.

"The extent of the layoff has not yet been determined," the statement concluded.

State Awards Contract For Route 111 Project

A contract for resurfacing 67 miles of Route 111 and reconstruction of the intersection of Route 111 and State Ave. Route 35 was awarded by the Illinois Division of Highways at Springfield yesterday to A. H. Seebold Truck Service & Excavating Co. of Granite City.

The project involves relocation of the highway at the intersection and installation of traffic signals on a bid price of $1,076,485.

$400 Prizes Offered In UF Essay Contest

Entries in the United Fund essay contest are still being accepted from Quad-City public and parochial school students on the topic "What the United Fund Means to Me."

Prizes totaling $400 provided by the United Steelworkers of America and Granite City Steel Co. will be awarded to 12 winners in three grade divisions, with prizes ranging from $75 to $55.

Committee Plan Also Recommends Limit of 15 Taverns in City

An aldermanic committee, headed by Third Ward Alderman Stanley Krakowiak, recommended to the Madison city council Tuesday night that Madison taverns be required to close at 1 a.m. Sunday through Friday, and at 2 a.m. on Saturday. A limit on the number of taverns permitted to operate within the community also was advocated.

Madison taverns presently are allowed to remain open until 4 a.m. It was pointed out in the committee's report, however, that of 31 taverns operating in Madison, only 12 remain open until the 4 a.m. deadline.

Commenting upon the importance of the proposed new tavern regulations to many business people and others in the community, Mayor Mike Sasyk referred the recommendations to council members for study, prior to formal debate on the issue at the council's next session. A vote is expected at the Sept. 29 meeting.

Later in Tuesday's meeting, Harry R. Johnson, chairman of a Citizens' Advisory Committee appointed by Mayor Sasyk to investigate the tavern hours matter, presented its proposal. Urge Uniformity with County

The citizens' group recommended the present 4 a.m. tavern closing hour be changed to become uniform with taverns operating in Madison county. Taverns in the county close at 1 a.m. Sunday through Tuesday and remain open until 2 a.m. on Fridays and Saturdays.

The controversial tavern closing hour became a major campaign issue in the July 28 mayoral election. Both major candidates, Mayor Sasyk and Third Ward Alderman Ray Kozielek, pledged, if elected, to revise the city's current liquor license ordinance and to eliminate the late closing hour law.

At his first formal meeting Aug. 4, Mayor Sasyk established a three-way committee to study the Madison tavern situation. The aldermanic and citizens' committee members were appointed by the mayor, with tavern owners selecting their own representatives.

Committee Meets
Named to the council committee were Fifth Ward Alderman John Hayes, First Ward Alderman Donald Reeves, Second Ward Alderman Richard Kramar and Alderman Krakowiak as chairman.

The citizens' committee was composed of John, Hayes, Enoch L. Gushley, William L. Hushley and William Jenkins. All but Jenkins were present when the citizens' group drafted its proposal, the council was told.

In its presentation to the council, Alderman Krakowiak said, "On Friday, Aug. 28, Alderman Citizens and Tavern committee met to discuss the 4 a.m. closing hour city law now has. At the meeting, the tavern operators presented their arguments in behalf of retaining the 4 a.m. closing hour."

The report stated out of 31 taverns operating in Madison, only 12 are open until 4 a.m. Half of the 12 do not open for business until 6 p.m., it was noted.

"At a meeting Sept. 4 between

Tax Collections 92.5% of Total

Taxes totaling $9,047,863 were collected from Granite City taxpayers by the office of City Treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rich during the local tax collection period, it was announced today. Rich said the tax books were completed and turned over to the county treasurer's office Tuesday. Further payments must now be made to the county treasurer's office.

The collection represented 92.5% of the total tax bill of $9,887,714 charged for collection in Granite City township this year. This was slightly less than the collection of 93.6% of the tax extension of $9,170,750 which was collected by the city treasurer last year.

The treasurer receives a 3% commission on all taxes collected locally. These funds go to the city for general operating purposes.

FUN FAIR GIFTS GALORE are being assembled and a small fraction of them can fill a residential lawn, as attested to by this photo. Forty agencies and organizations will take part in the fair Oct. 3-4 at the Wilson Park ice rink-restaurant center. Included in these gifts, planned for the USO booth, are baseballs, bats, finishing gear, dolls, soccer balls, basketballs, footballs, tennis racquets, tools, hockey sticks and pucks, jewelry, games, recordings, insulated picnic boxes, badminton sets, table tennis sets, leathercraft kits, crayons, plastic pitchers and refrigerator storage cartons.

Port Board Plans

Waterways Night

Possible improvements to the intersection of Rock road and Federal Aid Route 151 (Great River road) were discussed at a regular meeting of the Tri-City Regional Port District board Monday night.

It was announced at the meeting that Col. Carroll LeTolier, commander of St. Louis district of the U. S. Corps of Army Engineers, will be the featured speaker at the East Side Transportation Forum meeting on Monday, Sept. 21, at Augustine's Restaurant in Belleville.

In conjunction with the meeting, that Monday had been declared Waterways Night and a program is being planned by the Port District board, according to Carl Ranft, manager of the Port District.

Two Conduct Charges

Vernie Lee Hufstader, 17, of 2409 Bryan avenue, and a juvenile were charged with disorderly conduct and curfew violation at 2:40 a.m. Wednesday in the vicinity of some autos at 2283 Nevada avenue.

"Roll 'em out," was the cry this morning as the Oscar P. Dowdy family, after a short streak of bad luck, boarded their pony-powered stagecoach and "headed west."

Mr. and Mrs. Dowdy, employees of St. Elizabeth Hospital for the past year, have dreamed since April of attempting a trip to California, as the early settlers did-by stagecoach.

The Dowdys have several advantages over the early travelers, however, including a station wagon, a trailer for an extra four ponies, and bridges over the rivers.

The stagecoach was constructed by Dowdy especially for the trip which will move the family to Tulare, Calif. They plan to travel 20 to 25 miles a day and hope that the 2100 mile trip can be accomplished in 84 days.

Jaycees to Help

Jaycee chapters along the travel route have been requested to provide shelter for the family during the trip.

The trip was scheduled to begin on Monday, but rain forced a postponement to Wednesday.

Wednesday morning the sky was cloudy, but despite the hazard of rain, the ponies were hitched to the wagon.

Just when the Dowdys were ready to roll, however, a problem developed in one wheel and another delay was necessary.

This afternoon, as the Dowdys pass by the St. Louis arch, they will prove that the arch truly marks "the gateway to the west."

Officers Charge TRRA

Venice police officers Joseph Meehan and John Crook signed a complaint against the Terminal Railroad Monday night for blocking the Market street crossing near State street from 6:16 to 8:37 p.m. Monday.

Blocks Street, Struck

The right front of the parked truck of John G. Wallace, Capar, Mich., partially blocking 16th street while unloading at Edison avenue, was struck by another truck driven by Earle Johnson, St. Louis, who tried to get around it Monday.

EVERYONE'S FRIEND, MR. PATCHES, whose irrepressible personality will delight youngsters from 1 to 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 4, at the UF "Fun Fair" event in Wilson Park rink pavilion. The entertainer presides over "The Little Castle Children's Show," aired daily Monday-Friday on KDNL-TV, starting at 3 p.m.

'Mr. Patches' of TV Fame To Appear at Fun Fair

Mr. Patches of KDNL-TV fame will appear from 1 to 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 4, at the Quad-City area's "Fun Fair" event, it was announced today by Leo Konzen and Carl Mathias, co-chairmen of the 1970 United Fund kick-off program.

The United Fund Fair will be staged Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 3 and 4, in the Wilson Park rink pavilion. Following the lines of last year's successful venture, the public "Fair" will feature booths manned by UF agencies and volunteer club and service groups, top entertainment, free gifts and information concerning services available to Quad-Cityans.

To hundreds of small children throughout the bi-state metropolitan area, the winking hour is 3 p.m. each weekday when the pleasant, smiling face of Mr. Patches appears on their television screen.

10-Year Showman

Mr. Patches is Jack Miller, a ten-year veteran of the St. Louis television airways who brought to TV 30 a children's program called "The Little Castle and met... read-on with instant success.

Formatted with a "birthday party" concept, involving a live studio audience, "The Little Castle," in the first six months, has solid guest bookings for the next five years. The combination of puppets, a live character host and a continuous integration of community awareness used by Mr. Patches in his television show appeals to Mom and Dad, as well as the hundreds of youthful viewers.

Each day there are regular guests representing the St. Louis Zoo, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Missouri State Highway Patrol; public library, fire department, police department, plus special visitors from youth-oriented shows appearing in the St. Louis area.

Whether performing as Mr. Patches, or Cecil the Dinosaur, Norton the Duck or Princess Moonbeam, Jack Miller's ability as a clown-juggler and puppeteer has created a personal link between his youthful audience and the veteran showman. Miller constantly reminds the young viewers about their responsibilities of being good citizens and doing their part to make the world a better place in which to live. The television performer is in great demand for public appearances throughout the two-state region.

"We are very happy that Mr. Patches has agreed to visit the United Fun Fair and greet his many young fans from the Quad-Cities Fun Fair organizers said this week.

Amusement rides, "bigger-than-life" cartoon-like characters and other special attractions appealing to the young also are planned for the two-day fete.

Approaching United Fund Drive Spotlights 'American Way of Giving'

The American way of giving is the American way of getting. Whether a gift in the form of money saved by school children or millions given by a wealthy individual, each plays an important role in the American way of giving.

Locally, the major fund drive is the United Fund campaign, scheduled to open on Oct. 3. In 1969, Americans dug into their individual and corporate pockets and gave a record $17.5 billion in the form of contributions to religion, education, health and welfare, cultural and civic activities—part of a wide variety of philanthropic and charitable causes.

Loyal Altruists
For example, the University of Richmond is $50 million richer because of a gift from E. Claiborne Robins, a Richmond alumnus.

An 11-year-old Minnesota girl staged a carnival at her home which netted $76.60 for the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Last Christmas, over 15,000 persons gave almost a million dollars to the New York Times' annual appeal for funds to relieve suffering in the New York area.

The Labor Day telethon by Jerry Lewis raised $5 million for the muscular dystrophy fund.

Until world war I, charitable and philanthropic causes were largely supported by the wealthy; most others confined their giving to the church and its institutions.

Practiced by All Groups
Today, giving is not solely a practice of the wealthy. Last year, Americans made voluntary contributions at the record-breaking rate of $48 million a day, every day in the year.

Individuals have consistently given more than three-quarters of all annual contributions. In 1969, the total came to $13.5 billion. The average gift deduction in 1968, according to Internal Revenue figures, was $281.

The rest comes from bequests, foundations and corporations. Of the 18 largest sums given in 1969, ten were bequests.

A Detroit woman, who lived frugally and alone, left $250,000 to the United Negro College Fund when she died. Bequests totaling $1.5 billion last year included one $500 million legacy.

Funds from Foundations
In spite of the decline in the value of their common stocks in the last half of 1969, gifts by private, community and corporate foundations still totaled $1.6 billion.

About six percent—$900 million—of the total gifts last year came from corporations — including most of the $25 million donated to the Urban Coalition. Corporations have accepted greater social responsibility, particularly in the communities in which they are located.

The United Fund was started originally by the business community to simplify campaign giving. Last year, 2260 United Funds across the country, supporting 38,000 different agencies, raised $817 million. More than half of this is raised through payroll deductions.

Each United Fund is run by local people who administer the monies collected for local health and welfare activities.

Church Giving is Rising
Helping others had its roots in ancient religions, and a major part of all contributions to day-over 45%—still goes to support churches. Despite declining church attendance, the giving is up because persons going to church are giving more. Gifts not only come from such colleges as Harvard, Cornell and many others, but have also been the main source of their support.

Education received 16.9% of all gifts last year, most of it going to higher education. With the tremendous demands made upon schools in the last decade, alumni and friends were asked more often for more help in providing expanded facilities and programs.

The first alumni fund drive in the nation was at Yale 80 years ago. This year, Yale announced a record collection of almost $4.5 million. Yet 1820 fewer contributions were made this year than last.

Impact of Disorders
Campus unrest, economic uncertainty and the stock market decline have caused a drop in many college fund drives this year.

America's concern for health is shown in the extent of its gifts to agencies engaged in research and treatment of health problems. Although government is becoming increasingly involved in health care, private funds have been and continue to be needed. Last year, 16.2% of all funds went to health needs.

Family and child care agencies and youth and recreation programs were the recipients of 6.9% of all gifts last year.

Almost all cultural institutions were founded and originally supported by the wealthy, but this is no longer the case. The great "middle class" now also helps to support symphony orchestras, art museums and others. Government grants to the arts have generated many more millions in private funds.

Quality of Life
Increased prosperity during the '60s has brought an emerging effort to improve the quality of life. To help solve urban and poverty problems, many new agencies have been created, all seeking funds.

The desire to overcome pollution and the concern for saving open space have attracted more private money. Civic activities such as improved parks — or sometimes just more trees and flowers on city streets — also drew funds.

Gifts are often made in a way to attract other support. It is told that Andrew Carnegie once tried of giving so much to the Pittsburgh symphony and pledged only $25,000, if the symphony would raise another $25,000. This was done quickly and when Carnegie asked where they got the money, the answer was Mrs. Carnegie.

Volunteers Active
Many of the day-to-day activities and practically all of the fundraising of charitable organizations are done by volunteers; 245 million hours a week are donated by over 60 million volunteers of all ages and all walks of life.

The person who believes in an institution gives of his time, and the more time he gives freely, the more he contributes. His commitment also stimulates greater giving by those he knows and asks.

Perhaps the most dramatic example of the recent growth of volunteerism is with students. Just a few years ago, there were about 5000 students in volunteer tutoring programs. Now there are an estimated 200,000 students giving up to 10 hours a week for all kinds of services.

Philanthropy Not Easy
Julius Rosenwald, who gave away $60 million while he lived, said that it was "nearly always easier to make a million dollars honestly than to dispose of it wisely."

"Intelligent giving takes more than a checkbook or a bank account. A sound and honest agency welcomes investigation of its programs."

Philanthropy today is a part of the daily life of almost every American — serving not only those who are economically disadvantaged, but also the well-to-do.

Churches, hospitals, schools, scried as being for the purpose of cultural institutions, organizations for youth, recreation, health, welfare, conservation, research, international relations and aid, and civic improvement are all recipients of American altruism.

People give and people get. war."

tary and high school here. Free airplane rides, music, barbecue and other refreshments will be a feature of the event. Republican candidates for county and district offices will attend but are not scheduled to speak.

Senator Smith was appointed to the office a year ago by Illinois Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie to fill the vacancy created by the death of the late Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, but is required to run for election this year on the remaining four years of the term. He is opposed by Illinois State Treasurer Adlai Stevenson III who is expected to make campaign appearances in this area soon.

Oklahoma Sen. Henry Bellman was the principal speaker at the dinner meeting at STU-SW Monday night. He told his audience that a vote for Senator Smith "would be a vote of confidence in the Nixon Administration."

The nation, he said, "needs a Congress that will work for and not against the President." He said the outcome of the Smith-Stevenson race in November could make or break efforts of the GOP to control the Senate.

Ralph (Smith) has proved himself to you," the speaker said. "He has proved himself to members of the Senate and to the administration."

Republican candidates for county and district offices at the dinner affair, but did not speak. State Sen. Merrill Ottwein (R - Edwardsville) was a master of ceremonies.

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett of Utah told a dinner in Effingham this week that Smith deserves support because he has backed the Nixon administration, while in Chicago, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona described Stevenson as an "extreme leftist" and charged the state treasurer is "pulling away from constitutional government and undermining the free enterprise system."

Win Back Program To Be Dropped; To Start Survey

Granite City high school is discontinuing its Win Back program for adults because of lack of participation. Principal Lawrence McCauley informed the board of education Monday night.

After publishing advertisements for the program in which adults could earn high school diplomas through taking missed GCHS courses at night, McCauley said there were only 11 candidates eligible out of 13 inquiries, and the number is too small to set up the various classes.

"If we had about 10 or 12 more people, we would be able to continue," the principal said, adding that "we are continuing the program for everybody in town."

Four have completed basic night courses to finish for graduation in January, and another will graduate in June, he said.

In the three years of the program, 81 adults have earned diplomas, including the five current candidates, the board was told.

Other phases of the extensive night school program for adults will continue at GCHS.

School Evaluation. Meanwhile McCauley announced that the school will start an extensive evaluation of all studies in the school next month in preparation for the evaluation by the North Central Association in April. It is due to be completed by the first of the year.

He said it will be the first evaluation by the accrediting agency in about 20 years, and that in the future the NCA will make evaluations every seven years.

The study will be headed by Norman Owca, a member of the school's business department, who said the evaluation would assure that the school members made initial plans to review its old policy.

Hope to Link Every Car. Heralded as the first car-to-car police radio network of its kind in the nation, it is receiving the praise of law enforcement officials throughout the state. Backed by this support, the department is requesting Law Enforcement Council funding to purchase the approximately 2000 additional units needed to link every car in the state to the frequency.

By constantly monitoring the special frequency, Emergency Radio Network participants are able to respond to calls for assistance from one another in times of emergencies. Prior to the creation of the network, this was almost impossible, since most agencies operate on different frequencies.

The program is proving many theories, one being that better communication leads to better cooperation at all levels—city, county and state. On Aug. 26, Springfield, Menard county and Illinois State Police utilized the frequency to apprehend within a matter of four blocks away.

When snipers' fire stalled their car, the officers called for help over the regular radio frequency but could not reach their headquarters due to normal radio traffic. Turning to the Network frequency, the officers found help from a Champagne county sheriff's car which was only four blocks away.

The importance of the unit in this case is evident," Chief Shirley said. "Never before has our department been contacted by radio communication with other law enforcement agencies in this area. Now with ISPERN we have that contact and it may well have saved these two officers serious injury or perhaps even their lives."

The Emergency Radio Network is a tightly controlled system. Its units remain the property of the state and the rules governing their use are established by an 11-man board composed of representatives of the Illinois Association of Chiefs of Police, the Illinois Sheriffs Association, the Chicago Police Department, the Illinois state police and the Associated Public Safety Communications Officers.

Riots, Storms, Pursuits. It can be used only in emergency situations such as riots, tornadoes and other disasters and in the apprehension of criminals. Elk Grove Village Police Chief Harry P. Jenkins said it has been "of valuable assistance in chase situations."

Prior to the installation of ISPERN units, the criminal could elude pursuing officers by simply crossing county or township boundaries, especially in complex metropolitan areas. Police officers equipped with the units can radio ahead to neighboring law enforcement 28 minutes a subject fleeing from Menard to Sangamon county in a stolen car.

As one radio dispatcher noted, "Previous to the Network, it was almost impossible to coordinate action between city, county and state due to the time delay caused by having to use the telephone or the already overworked radio channels to contact the city police."

Lives Saved in Ambush. Champagne Chief of Police Harvey Hendrix noted that with saving the lives of two officers in an ambush shoot-out on July 22.

When snipers' fire stalled their car, the officers called for help over the regular radio frequency but could not reach their headquarters due to normal radio traffic. Turning to the Network frequency, the officers found help from a Champagne county sheriff's car which was only four blocks away.

Constitution

1870 wording is satisfactory, Durr said.

"Each registered voter will get a copy of the proposed constitution along with changes and explanatory material showing what we are trying to accomplish," Durr related.

"Our basic approach was to bring the exercise of governmental power as close to the people as possible. "We concluded there are some things we always want government to do for us, and that they should be done by the lowest level of government that is possible."

"There can be no question but that the project should be expanded to equip every police vehicle in Illinois with the most effective tool for law enforcement," Chief Jenkins said.

Chicago Heights Police Chief Jack Ziegler reported the apprehension by one of his officers of a hit-and-run vehicle being chased from Park Forest South on Aug. 19. Ziegler said that "within a matter of two minutes" after being alerted through the frequency, his officers stopped the fleeing suspect.

Deterrent to Crime. "I feel that this apprehension was only accomplished by the expediency of our town transmitting emergency traffic to other towns, via ISPERN," Ziegler said. "It is this type of communication that should eventually curtail any type of criminal actions in the future."

Rockford's Police Department has 51 such units in operation in police communications. Chief Delbert E. Peterson feels the system is "a giant step forward" in police communications. "It is my sincere belief that the key to effective and continuing law enforcement is through cooperation and coordination of the various police agencies throughout Illinois," Chief Peterson said.

"One such method of obtaining a high degree of cooperation is through the use of ISPERN units, which are in communication with the command and operational units of the various police agencies throughout the state."

can handle them. We want government close to the people; that's the idea. It's not the state representative may be far away.

"We also sought to provide government with more manpower to solve problems, without a lot of artificial barriers," Durr related.

"For example, we eliminated the $250,000 state debt limit and converted all debt limitations into percentages."

"We included some restrictions which can be changed only by a three-fifths vote of each house of the General Assembly, or a majority of each house plus a statewide referendum."

"Our thinking was that this would avoid giving the party which happens to be in control of the legislature the power to alter state constitutional guidelines."

Johnsen said, "I'm much happier with what we produced than I thought it would be a few months ago. It has loosened up state government about the way it ought to be, while avoiding any wholesale changes in the constitution."

He has wanted to avoid having a lot of people say, "We're getting by pretty well—why take a chance that this will be better?"

Unique Local Rule Plan. "The proposed constitution has a lot of things for local government to decide for themselves, of letting local government do what it thinks is right, subject to denial by three-fifths of the state legislators. This sounds like 'home rule' to me," Johnsen commented.

"The granting of local power and the way the pre-emption clause is worded are unique; no other state has it. We feel that government close to the people is in the best position to decide how to spend money and if money is to be spent."

"We took our four highly controversial matters to deal with letting the people decide separately so that improvement of the main part of the constitution could not be proved by those who differ on these issues."

"These issues are voting at age 18, abolishing the death penalty, having all judges elected, and if all judges appointed, and retaining cumulative state representative voting, which no other state has seen fit to copy in the past 100 years."

Both Parties May Endorse It. The delegates speculated that Chicago area political leaders will support approval of the new constitution because it gives the city of Chicago and Cook county wide authority to deal with the problems confronting them. They expect both Democratic and Republican backing.

Since Chicago Democrats favor retaining judicial election and cumulative voting, and it stands on all four special questions rather than explaining different stands to voters, it is possible that there will be strong

Mrs. Lillian McRaven, 60, Dies at Peoria

Mrs. Lillian McRaven, 60, of 2381 Iowa street, died suddenly at 7:10 a.m. today in Peoria, after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage. She was a 37-year resident of Granite City and active in the affairs of the Third Baptist Church. Mrs. McRaven and her husband, Thomas H. McRaven, were visiting the former's brother at Washington, Ill., when she became ill shortly before last midnight and was taken to St. Francis Hospital in Peoria. Her four children arrived at the hospital before Mrs. McRaven expired seven hours later. She had not previously been ill.

A native of Desoto, Mo., Mrs. McRaven served as teacher of the Mary Martha Class of the Third Baptist Church. She was a long-time member of the support for the new constitution but opposition to all the changes listed separately, the gathering was told.

The major peril to the new constitution may be failure to vote on it, since unmarked ballots in effect will count as "No" votes, the delegates said.

Johnsen said a constitutional obstacle to municipal revenue bonds for industrial development is removed in the proposed constitution.

While the anti-pollution section guarantees citizens' right to a healthy environment and empowers them to seek court action against polluters, the General Assembly will be given time to set up reasonable procedural rules for such suits, Durr reported.

Past Limits Failed to Limit. He defended the plan to extend all personal property taxes, noting that all witnesses discussing this during the convention failed to say it was an unfair tax, not uniformly applied, which requires "everybody" to pay.

Most statewide organizations have not yet taken a stand on the new constitution, because of the need to study it and because they will hold annual meeting within the next few weeks, it was noted.

The League of Women Voters favors passage and it seems likely that both Governor Ogilvie and Chicago Mayor Daley will endorse the new constitution, the delegates said. Ogilvie endorsed it yesterday.

Home rule is likely to be the main favorable point, they said. While some may question easing of tax bond limits, those limits in the past have forced alternative procedures, which proved costly to taxpayers, it was contended.

They said there is no inconsistency between the Con. "home rule" move and the Nov. 3 referendum on a $750 million water pollution bond issue, since "clean streams" can best be achieved on a statewide basis."

church and also held active membership in the Madison County Homeowner's Extension Association (Home Bureau). Beside her husband, Thomas surviving are three sons, Dr. Donald R. McRaven of Milwaukee, Wis.; Harold R. McRaven of St. Ann, Mo.; and Thomas G. McRaven of Granite City; a daughter, Mrs. John (Carolyn) Roeder of LaGrange Park, Ill.; two brothers, Claude Wilson of Washington, Ill., and Harry Wilson of Alton, Ill., and 11 grandchildren.

Ceremonies will open at 3 p.m. Saturday with the consecration of the cross at the parish cemetery, Route 157 and Interstate 270, and Great Vespers will be held at 7 p.m. at the church, followed by a tea honoring the Orthodox Father.

Pontifical Divine Liturgy will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, and an anniversary banquet will follow at 1 p.m. at Trinity hall, 13th street and Madison avenue, according to announcements by Rev. Walter Lecko, pastor.

Church History

Long before 1900, the seeds of the Orthodox Church were planted in the city of Madison by Carpatho-Russian and Galician immigrants. In the year 1900, the people erected a wooden structure on Ewing avenue. This was done by the hardworking faithful at a great sacrifice. This church structure basically remained the same over the years, with some additions.

The parishioners hold in fond memory the late Patriarch Tikhon of Moscow. When he was Archbishop of the Orthodox Church in America, he visited Madison in 1901 and donated the Holy Gospel and the Church bell and gave a five hundred dollar donation toward the building expense. Financial assistance was received from the Russian, Orthodox Greek Catholic Mutual Aid Society of Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania. The original members of the society served as founding members of the church. Included in this group were: Fr. late Melody, Rydzko, Lukas Perek and Nicholas Fecurka.

The church in Madison was consecrated by Father John Kuchoroff, pastor of the Chicago parish and the builder of the present Cathedral in Chicago. The consecration was formed according to the lesser rite. He donated an ancient icon of the Mother of God of Kazan, which is found today in the altar. On the reverse is the following inscription: "In Blessing to the Madison Parish from the Priest John Kuchoroff." This eminent pastor returned to his homeland and in the beginning of the Russian revolution, was brutally martyred.

Before the consecration, the iconostasis was built by the late Constantine Rydzko and D. Waskinsky. In 1903 Madison was flooded by five feet of water and the Church Building was moved approximately one foot. The Madison parish is the second oldest congregation in Madison.

Has Own Cemetery
The parish has its own cemetery, eleven acres in size, located on Highway 157 at the Junction of Interstate 270, and is commonly called Sunset Hill. This lot was purchased in 1924 and dedicated on Memorial Day, May 30, 1925, by His Eminence, Archbishop Leonty, then Archbishop of Chicago and now the late Primate of our Church. Previously, the parish had a small cemetery near Wood River. However, due to the distance from the church, and the added appeal of Sunset Hill, this cemetery was sold and the present cemetery was purchased.

The parish was ministered by missionary priests in its early years and beginning with 1905, permanent priests were assigned. Due to the constant expansion of the Orthodox Church in the city of Madison, many missionary priests and assigned priests served in the Church for short periods. Since 1965, approximately 20 priests have served in the Madison church.

Fr. Stephanov of Cleveland, Ohio, was the first missionary priest sent to Madison. He arrived in 1899. He heard confessions and celebrated the Divine Liturgy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sawachuk, 1017 Madison avenue.

The parish has had many priests in Madison. They served to the best of their talents and abilities. The following listing is not necessarily in chronological order. Among those who served are: Rev. Paul Tkach, Rev. N. Gress, Rev. Nicholas Litzke, Rev. Gregory Popov, Rev. Nuchko, Rev. John Rusin, Rev. George Yankelevich, Rev. Theodore Pencenk, Rev. John Manchuk, Rev. Peter Rusyn, Rev. Bellemore Open Thursday, Friday and Monday Nights 'til 9

MHS at O'Fallon for Grid Opener Friday

"The toughest game of the season will be against O'Fallon," in the opinion of Madison Head football Coach Al Vonder Haar of the MHS Trojans, who will open the 1970 season at 8 p.m. tomorrow at O'Fallon.

Coach Vonder Haar added, "Having such a tough team for the opener will make the team mature fast."

He asked fans to note that the game time Friday will be 8 p.m. instead of the previously scheduled 7:30 p.m.

As to the style of play for MHS, Vonder Haar reports, "Trojan fans may expect to see a lot of running and a power line. This style paid off last year."

It will be the last meeting of the two schools, as O'Fallon will be playing in the Gateway Conference next season and has not scheduled MHS.

Madison got off to a slow start last season in its game of the MHS Trojans, who scored two touchdowns in the first quarter.

However, the Trojans came back late in the game to defeat O'Fallon 13-12. The Panthers will be out for a victory after their narrow defeat last season.

In the 1968 season, O'Fallon blanked the Trojans 27-0. That game was full of Trojan penalties.

Vonder Haar believes that if the Trojans can avoid the mistakes of 1968, they should be "in good shape."

He expects that "O'Fallon will use a couple of favorite plays such as the 52 Monster, where they have a five-man line with two linebackers. O'Fallon will also use a trap and off-tackle play."

Harold Campbell, 6-0, 205 senior, will be playing defensive left guard. Also expected to see action on defense is John Gardner, 5-9, 185 senior right end.

Two sophomores scheduled for varsity play are Roger Gasper, 5-9, 145 halfback, and Glen

Jackson, 5-10, 170 middle line-backer.

Several Trojan players will be doing double duty on both offense and defense.

The probable starting line for O'Fallon will be: Kevin Kombrink, 6-0, 170 senior left end; Mike Smith, 6-2, 205 senior left tackle; Steve Brandberry, 5-8, 155 senior left guard; Dennis Smith, 5-11, 180 senior center; Doug Phillips, 5-11, 185 junior right guard; John Rayfield, 6-1, 185 senior right tackle; and Kevin Turner, 6-0, 187 junior right end.

Mike Feist, 5-8, 149 junior, is the Panther quarterback; Scott Weidner, 5-9, 156 junior right half; Larry Goodman, 5-6, 142 junior left half; and Dave Mueller, 5-8, 178 junior fullback.

The defensive team for O'Fallon will include Dennis Bull, 6-5, 185 junior right end; Ron Sindorf, 6-1, 205 senior right tackle; Randy Pierce, 5-10, 180 junior middle guard; Gary Pas-

Linebackers for the Panthers are Craig Hangleben, 5-10, 158 senior, Henry Austion, 5-10, 162 junior, and Joe LeFrancis, 5-10, 175 junior.

Playing defensive halfback will be Mike Cozart, 5-9, 180 junior, Lee Lowery, 5-11, 144 senior, and Jim Beaver, 5-7, 150 senior.

Coach Bob Scates, who is in his fifth season with O'Fallon and had a 6-4 record last year, told the Press-Record that Madison is "definitely one of the toughest teams we will play."

Coach Scates feels the Panthers have a well-balanced team this season, and in his opinion they are a little better than last year.

He added that he has no "super stars" and this makes for a stronger team. Morale of the team is running high, according to Scates.

GC, MHS Among Title Threats in 2 Leagues

How strong are the 1970 high school football teams in this region?

No one knows for sure, since the season will not open until this weekend, but Madison is regarded as a possible repeat champion in the Midwestern Conference and second-place Granite City could move up in the Southwestern league, some observers believe.

Alton, East St. Louis and Belleville West are highly rated along with GCMS, with Collinsville, Wood River and Edwardsville not considered con-

Decatur Hosts GCHS Eleven on Saturday

The curtain will rise at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Stephen Decatur high school, Decatur, on the 1970 Granite City high school football season.

As the final days of practice unfolded this week, Warrior Coach Wayne Williams said his players still needed "a lot more work and practice" if they are to equal or better last year's record.

The 1969 Warrior team ended in a tie for second place in the Southwestern Conference with a 4-2 record. An element of last year's team that Coach Williams expects to be much stronger this season is the defensive backfield.

He views Decatur as a tough team to open against. It has several key players returning.

Both the Warrior coach and players have been studying films made of the Stephen Decatur team in action last season.

Harris Starting Quarterback

Probable starting offensive backfield for the Warriors will consist of Don Harris, 5-8, 145 senior quarterback; Dennis Kunnaman, 5-10, 170 senior fullback; Mike Wilson, 5-11, 180 senior right half; and Ned Tapp, 6-0, 175 left half.

On the offensive line for the Warriors will be Jeff Melzer, 6-0, 185 senior right end; Richard Moore, 6-6, 238 senior right tackle; Bruce Burnett, 6-0, 200 senior right guard; Tom Kalert, 6-2, 174 junior center; Gerald Mactos, 5-10, 215 junior left tackle; John Tarpoff, 5-9, 177 senior left guard; and Robert Wiggins, 6-1, 180 left end.

The defensive backfield includes Steve Stagner, 5-11, 167 senior cornerback; Tom Mitchell, 5-10, 183 senior cornerback; Mark Coy, 5-11, 187 junior safety or possibly David Carmody, 5-8, 145 junior safety; and Wade Ferguson, 5-8, 156 junior safety.

The defensive line for the Warriors will be Kim Gauen, 6-0, 182 senior left end; Mark Mizerski, 6-2, 235 senior left tackle; Ernie Suber, 6-2, 185 senior left guard; Craig Stephens, 5-8, 135 junior right guard; Chuck Kraus, 6-3, 200 junior right tackle; Brad Briggs, 5-9, 176 senior right end. Middle linebacker will be Joe Wallace, 5-11, 190 junior.

Decatur Team Strong

Decatur Coach Jim Tate, beginning his 15th season at the school, says it is too early to tell what style of play will be used but he feels the team may be able to improve on last season's record of 7-2.

GCHS and Decatur did not meet in 1969.

Veteran Passer

Cliff Taylor, a veteran quarterback, will be doing the passing. Taylor, a senior, 6-0, 155 is in his third year of varsity ball.

Receiving will be good, according to Coach Tate. Capable pass receivers returning include Kerry Beck, 5-8, 150 left end, and Jerry Thomas, 5-9, 150 end. Thomas runs the 100-yard dash in 9.9 seconds.

Kevin Gardner and Mike Moore were also mentioned as receivers.

John Evans, 6-0, 165 offensive senior halfback is fast; he runs the 100 in 10.4.

Experienced linebackers returning for Stephen Decatur are Mark Lochmiller, 5-9, 160 senior, and Dennis Hanappel, 5-9, 150 senior.

Defensive ends include Rich Singer, 6-1, 183 junior.

On the offensive side, the backfield may include Mark Prichard, 5-9, 155 right half; Mike Tate, 6-0, 185 junior fullback; and Cliff Taylor, 6-0, 175 senior quarterback.

Offensive line members in addition to Beck are Chuck Burgett, 5-11, 180 junior left tackle; Bill Miller, 5-10, 180 senior left guard; Ernie Dwork, 6-0, 185 senior center; Ty McMillan, 5-11, 190 senior right guard; Mark Coppenbarger, 5-10, 155 senior right tackle; and Kevin Gardner, 6-0, 175 junior right end.

John Sherman, 6-2 senior tackle, also is expected to see action.

Driver in Spin Will Retain His Eyesight

Wib Spalding, who was injured in a high-speed roll over during the feature race at the Tri-City Speedway, was released from St. Elizabeth Hospital, St. Louis Wednesday. He had been treated for massive hemorrhaging of the eyes and a fractured neck.

Recalling the incident, Spalding said it appeared to him that the engine, Bobbin's car blew a tire and the rear of the sprint car slid into the rear of Spalding's auto.

"I opened her up full and the front end managed to miss Charlie, but the rear end of his car hit mine, throwing my car's rear end into the air, and the front end dug in," Spalding's car rolled without incident.

"but I don't think I hit the wall," he said.

Eyes hemorrhaging, feared by all race drivers, is caused by the centrifugal force of a rapid spin or roll, not by the crash itself, he said.

He feels fine now and is looking forward to racing again in the near future, but the doctors said that it may be near Christmas before he runs again.

River Levee in Danger, C. of E. Engineer Claims

Testimony on awarding of a $180,519 contract without competitive bidding was presented at the state senate committee on the Missouri Army Corps of Engineers yesterday in the misconduct trial of four East Side Levee District trustees in St. Clair circuit court at Belleville.

Max Lamm, assistant chief of the engineering division of the corps, testified that the district had been warned on and off for 19 years that an emergency existed on four tunnels under the Mississippi river at East St. Louis and that cleaning and repairing was required.

Two of the tunnels were closed this year by a contract granted to Eastgate Construction Co., East St. Louis, at a cost of $189,519, and it was for cracks, chipped, jeopardizing the bottomland area.

Lamm said the trustees were advised to have the other two tunnels cleaned and inspected and that repairs be made at a cost of $189,519.

He was called by levee board attorney Harry Hartman to show that immediate action on the contract was taken because of the emergency.

Prosecutor James J. Smith testified that the contract was taken because of the emergency.

The trustees, Morris Campbell, board president, Lawrence Tolar and George Duff, all of East St. Louis, and William Eberhardt of Venice, are under indictment for letting contracts without performance bonds or competitive bidding and for paying $189,519 for the work.

Voter Registration Deadline October 6

The deadline for voters to register or record address changes and still vote in the Nov. 3 election is Saturday, Oct. 6. Miss Eulalia Hotz, Madison county clerk reminded residents today.

Special voter registration centers will be conducted tomorrow in Ponton Beach and Granite City and on Saturday at the West Madison Memorial Center.

On Friday, deputy registrars will be located from 4 to 7 p.m. at Granite City Trust and Savings Bank; and Schermer's XL Hardware store, 4010 Ponton road, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Registrations will be accepted Saturday at West Madison Memorial Center from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Miss Hotz said eligible voters who are not registered may register at any of the special centers wherever most convenient. Incapacitated persons, who have never registered but wish to do so, should contact the county clerk before Oct. 6.

For Change of Address

Included in the 121,000 property tax amendment leaflets recently sent to voters by the county clerk's office are pink slips of paper—applications for change of address.

The slips state: "If you receive this letter at an address other than the typed address on the envelope, please complete the affidavit on the reverse side and return it, at once (with your old pink card, if you have it) to: Miss Eulalia Hotz, county clerk."

Miss Hotz pointed out the policy of the post office is to forward mail after a resident changes his address for as long as two years. After that, the mail is returned to the sender.

The county official explained that approximately 3000 persons have moved since the primary election and failed to notify her office so that voters records can be updated.

In mailing the blue property amendment pamphlets to all registered voters, almost 3000 letters were returned by the post offices marked undeliverable—over 800 mailings were returned in one weekend—because the addressee has moved.

Miss Hotz stressed that anyone who did not receive the blue pamphlet describing the proposed amendment to the Constitution to be voted on Nov. 3, should notify her office immediately.

State Paid Cost

Copies of the constitutional amendment which would abolish the property tax entirely as to individuals were sent out in accordance with, and at the expense of, the State of Illinois.

Beside the text of the proposed amendment, the leaflets contain an explanation of the proposition, the form of the amendment as it will appear on the ballot and a resume of arguments for and against the amendment.

Registered voters are urged to check the address on their pink-voter's card to determine if the address is the same as their present residence. If not, note the new address on the reverse side of the card and mail to the County Clerk's office in Edwardsville.

Permanent deputy registrars in the Quad-City area are:

HEADS SECOND CAMPAIGN. Mrs. Alice Worthen of Granite City, Cystic Fibrosis chairman for Madison county and local community, accepts a donation from her grandson, Joseph Alan Donaldson, 3½ years. Joseph and his four-month-old brother, Billy, are victims of the disease.

Volunteers Needed

Cystic Fibrosis Drive Starts in Area Sunday

Mrs. Alice Worthen, 3224 Aubrey avenue, will spearhead the second organized fund-raising campaign in Madison county for the Gateway Chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, it was announced yesterday by chapter officials.

Although the entire month of September has been designated "National Breath of Life Campaign Month," the chapter's major fund-raising efforts will be directed to the public start Sunday.

A house-to-house solicitation drive is planned for next week throughout Madison county, including the Quad-City area. Mrs. Worthen announced. Volunteers are needed to help assist in the campaign, the chairman said, adding that persons wishing to volunteer may contact her at 877-1478.

The Granite City woman who served in the same post during the initial fund-raising drive, has a deep-seated and dedicated interest in the treatment of the disease.

David Lee Donaldson died in February 1968, at age two-and-a-half years. Joseph Alan Donaldson, also afflicted with the disease, soon will observe his fourth birthday.

He is cared for in local hospitals and shortly will be required to sleep under an ultrasonic mist tent.

Joseph's infant brother, Billy, just four months old, also has been diagnosed as having Cystic Fibrosis.

The infant now receives lung therapy daily, but a mist tent will be necessary for the tiny boy in the near future, Mrs. Worthen said.

The boys are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Carl (Cindy Worthen) Donaldson, 2728B Center street. Another Worthen grandchild, Theresa Meador, has been diagnosed as free of the disease.

Disease Affects Lungs

Cystic Fibrosis is the most serious disease affecting children's lungs and digestion. One in roughly 1000 infants is born with the ailment which is hereditary.

Both parents carry a defective gene, Mrs. Worthen explained, that frequently causes Voluntary disease to appear in the offspring.

A key factor in the disease is malfunctioning glands which produce an abnormal mucus that clogs the lungs, causing breathing difficulties and infection.

The mucus also interferes with digestion by preventing the flow of enzymes and child's pancreas into the intestine, with the result that a child may have a poor appetite, but severe malnutrition occurs, the county chairman said.

The National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation is now fighting a variety of children's lung diseases, as C/F Centers across the country are discovering that six out of seven patients referred for diagnosis have other ailments whose symptoms mimic Cystic Fibrosis.

Children with severe asthma, chronic bronchitis and childhood emphysema also need help and their condition frequently responds to the same type of treatment devised for C/F victims, Mrs. Worthen explained.

There is hope for the Cystic Fibrosis child, Mrs. Worthen stressed, and continued research produces greater prospects for the future. As recently as a dozen years ago, most babies with C/F died before reaching school age.

Today, with early diagnosis and improved therapy, more and more are living into their teens and twenties. Many C/F victims still are lost in childhood, but the earlier they are diagnosed the better chance they have for leading useful lives. Victims of other pulmonary disease have a lower death rate, but for them, early detection and good treatment also save lives.

Since a C/F child, even when comparatively "well," costs the parents about $1200 annually for drugs and equipment, referral to government agencies for financial aid often is necessary, Mrs. Worthen said. She noted that monthly expenses run in excess of $200 for a C/F victim when ill.

Have Two Centers

The Gateway Chapter supports two major C/F Care, Teaching and Research Centers at St. Louis Children's Hospital and Cardinal Glennon Hospital.

Both serve children from Illinois and Missouri.

When a child afflicted with Cystic Fibrosis becomes ill and requires hospitalization, he cannot be cared for in local hospitals and needs the special equipment and attention provided at Cystic Fibrosis Centers.

There are presently 110 C/F Centers throughout the country, the chairman said.

During the door-to-door campaign, literature concerning the disease will be made available to local residents. Canisters have been distributed this week at area business firms.

Mrs. Worthen also announced that Mrs. Logan (Judy) Donaldson, 1536 Fifth street, Madison, is serving as Cystic Fibrosis chairman for the city of Madison. She is an aunt of the child.

Residents who are not contacted by a volunteer marcher may send contributions to Mrs. Worthen or to the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, 7730 Carondelet, St. Louis, Mo. 63105.

Additional information about the campaign is available by calling 877-1478, or 876-6632. Volunteer marchers may register by contacting the same numbers. Mrs. Worthen said.

A charter member of the Madison County Medical Assistants Association, Mrs. Worthen also is a member of St. Mary's.

Savings, Loan Firm Officials To Attend Meet

Representatives of Quad-City Savings and loan associations are planning to attend the 91st annual convention of the Illinois Savings and Loan industry which is to convene in Chicago at the Drake Hotel Monday.

Daniel J. Nicholas, president of the host Illinois Savings and Loan League, said that this year's convention program concerns itself with the new economics, operations and regulatory possibilities that have been forecast for the '70s. Nicholas is also president of First Federal Savings of Rockford, Ill.

The savings and loan associations of Illinois report total resources approaching $4 billion, more than 4.6 million customers.

Recognized specialists in financial economics and government will appear before the 900 delegates assembled in Chicago. The overall purpose, according to Nicholas, will be to provide constructive studies on legislation, marketing, regulations, economics and other related subjects, that savings and loan executives will consider in planning their operations during the next decade.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie will add to the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Convention Tuesday.

In addition to his remarks, the Governor will sign the official proclamation declaring October to be Savings and Loan Month in Illinois.

A group of girls may start their own club or may join an already existing club. Club activities include social events, helping charitable organizations, helping needy people at Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter, and other instances. Chuck Hasse said that "basically a Tri-Hi-Y Club can be what the girls involve want to make it. It is a tremendous opportunity for girls to get together and socialize, make new friends, help other needy groups and organizations, and also be members of a world-wide organization."

Tri-Hi-Y Clubs may have a maximum of 25 members, with two adult advisors to help the girls plan and carry out their programs and activities. Club members are asked to have a "Y" membership, either a $5 yearly club membership, a $3 school semester membership, or a $20 full activity Teen Town membership.

Girls interested in starting or joining a Tri-Hi-Y Club are invited to visit the YMCA Monday night, Sept. 21 at 7:30 p.m. Marty Herman, club coordinator, will be present to help the girls get their clubs started. Further information may be obtained by calling the Youth Office at 878-7200.

Hospital Asking New Candy Stripper Forms

The volunteer office at St. Elizabeth Hospital is asking all youths who have previously applied for positions as Candy Strippers to phone the office for information purposes.

The candidates are being asked to reapply. The office is open between 1 and 6 p.m.

Y Dance Tomorrow

In an effort to avoid conflict with the first high school football game of the season Saturday night, the Tri-City Area YMCA Teen Town will sponsor a dance Friday night. "Serra Leigh" has been booked to play the 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. dance. The Y was forced to cancel its dance Sept. 12, when the band scheduled to play cancelled out due to illness.

SEN. MERRILL OTTWEIN

In 1967, the Illinois crime rate increased to the third highest in the nation. With this in mind, should Illinois law enforcement officials have more authority . . . what standards should be set in assessing penalties . . . when firearms are used in crimes, should mandatory sentences be levied against the guilty . . . is lawlessness a symptom of other social problems that need attention?

Sen. Merrill Ottwein CARES to know your opinion on these questions. Send your response to the Senator at Rte. 4, Edwardsville.

29 Speakers on All Topics Scheduled at C. of C. Meet

A lineup of 29 speakers—covering consumerism, con-con, campus attitudes toward business, politics and the economic outlook—are scheduled to address the 52nd annual meeting of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce Thursday and Friday, Oct. 1 and 2 in Chicago's Conrad Hilton.

More than 3000 business and professional men and women from throughout the state will hear the speakers discuss solutions to major problems and issues facing the state and nation.

Virginia F. Knauer, special assistant to the president for consumer affairs, will discuss "Consensus in Consumerism" at the Oct. 2 luncheon.

That evening, Illinois' two senatorial candidates, Senator Ralph T. Smith and Adlai E. Stevenson III debate the issues at the annual banquet.

A timely forum titled "Confronts the Voters" is slated Friday morning. The panel features Samuel W. Wilber, Con Con president, and the convention's nine committee chairmen, who will explain the completed articles approved by the convention for submission to the voters in December.

The participants are: William L. Fay, Jacksonville, judiciary committee chairman; Elmer Gertz, Chicago, bill of rights; John M. Karnas, Jr., Belleville, revenue; George J. Lewis, Quincy, legislative; Paul E. Mathias, Bloomington, education; Thomas J. McCracken, River Forest, general government; John C. Parkhurst, Peoria, local government; Joseph A. Tescon, Riverside, executive; and Peter A. Tomel, Chicago, suffrage and amending.

A second forum Friday morning, titled "Is Business Short-Changed on the Campus," brings together leaders from the education, business and student communities in a discussion of student attitudes toward business. Participants and their topics are: Dr. John A. Howard, president, Rockford (Ill.) College, "Who Speaks for Private Enterprise on the Campus"; Paul Yelavich, associate personnel director, The Prudential Insurance Company of America, Newark, N. J., "New Challenges for the Campus Recruiter"; Renard I. Jackson, political science student, Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, and Raymond W. Shuran, marketing student, University of Illinois at Chicago Circle, both discussing "Business Through a Student's Eyes"; and Karl R. An Tassel, vice chairman, A. B. Dick Company, Niles, "Is Business Getting What It Needs?"

An analysis of the 1971 business outlook in the panel will be discussed by leading business executives: John M. Budd, chairman, Barrington National Inc., St. Paul; William A. Butch, Jr., chairman of the board and chief executive officer, Consolidated Foods Corporation, Chicago.

New officers will be chosen at a board of directors meeting Tuesday evening. A reunion of alumni directors is planned at the same time.

Bakalis Urges Program of Drug Abuse Education

David E. Connor, president, Commercial National Bank of Peoria, Peoria; Robert C. Guinness, president, Standard Oil Company (Indiana), Chicago; Robert Stuart, chairman of the board, National Can Corporation, Chicago; W. A. Walker, vice chairman of the finance committee and comptroller, United States Steel Corporation, Pittsburgh, Pa.; J. Harris Ward, chairman, Commonwealth Edison Company, Chicago; and A. J. Watt, executive vice president, United States Gypsum Company, Chicago.

Rounding out the forum will be an address on "Current Monetary and Credit Conditions" by George W. Mitchell, member of the board of governors, Federal Reserve System, Washington, D. C.

The annual meeting will open with a business session for members at 2 p.m. Thursday at which directors for the coming year will be elected. At 2:30 p.m. committee assembly on State Problems will bring together members of all State Chamber committees to discuss the critical problems facing business and the state. Then they will hammer out priority projects for the Chamber's 1971 action program.

The immediate establishment of a comprehensive state drug abuse education program was called for this week by Dr. Michael J. Bakalis, Democratic candidate for state superintendent of public instruction.

Dr. Bakalis said he was greatly disturbed that the present program, instituted only this year by Superintendent Ray Page, is inadequate and according to federal estimate, it will reach no more than 10% of the state's teachers and 13% of the students during this school year.

"The superintendent's office has touted this program as a cure-all for drug abuse," he said, "but close inspection reveals that Page's 1970 program calls for spending less than ten cents per student on this critical problem."

Bakalis charged that the present program is nothing more than an act of political tokenism, financed by a meager $200,000 federal grant without the aid of any state funds.

Bakalis said as superintendent he would ask the Illinois

General Assembly to appropriate funds to underwrite experimental programs in school districts in every part of the state. The results of these programs would be studied to find the best solution for Illinois children.

"As superintendent," Bakalis said, "I will assume the responsibility of correlating and disseminating all information gained from the successes and failures in local programs throughout the state."

"I am also disturbed by recent disclosures of greatly increased drug abuse among elementary school children," Bakalis told a meeting of Evansville Democrats. "It is critically important that we reach our school children with the facts before they are deceived into believing drugs are harmless," he said.

Bakalis said the superintendent's office should actively solicit contributions from foundations and private sources in order to fund the production of public service radio and television spots to inform Illinois children of the extreme dangers involved in drug use.

Delay Undesirable
"It is unfortunate that Superintendent Page did not have the foresight and initiative to undertake a drug abuse education program until this year, when it was offered him—fully funded—by the federal government."

"It is also unfortunate that the superintendent made no effort to supplement the token federal program with state money, as was strongly urged by the U. S. government," Bakalis said.

Bakalis said the present program has trained only a handful of teachers in methods of drug education. These few teachers, in turn, are expected to communicate what they have learned to the state's 100,000 plus teachers and more than 2,000,000 school children.

"If the federal estimates hold true," Bakalis said, "it will take more than ten years to reach the teachers alone, and that estimate makes no allowance for turnover."

Major Crimes Up 30, Traffic Mishaps Decline

A total of 257 major crimes were reported in Granite City property damage accidents, during August, an increase of 30 over the same month last year, according to a report by Police Chief Ronald J. Veier.

Twenty-nine cases were cleared by arrest compared to 37 during August of last year. Cowills to Perform Saturday at Eastern Success in a team effort, but we have the individual problems of any family; that's the way the mother portion of The Cowills describes the pop music group scheduled to appear at Eastern Illinois University at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Barbara Cowill has been a mother for 20 years and a celebrity for two, and although she performs with her sons and daughter in concerts, she says "the name of our game is that we're raising a family."

The Cowills will perform at Eastern as one of the high lights of Parents Weekend. Tickets are priced at $3.50 (main floor) and $2.50 (balcony).

In 1967 The Cowills reached the national level of music with their first MGM album which contained the million-seller "The Rain, The Park, and Other Things."

Victor Buono, who was nominated for an Academy Award for his performance in "What Ever Happened to Baby Jane?" will appear in a dramatic program Jan. 23. The London Gabrieli Brass will bridge the gap between classical and pop music on Feb. 8.

Post-Sputnik Honeymoon at Colleges Ended by Unrest

Maintenance of a free and open university and restoration of public confidence in higher education are two of the paramount concerns of Illinois State University in the year ahead.

This was the assertion of Dr. Richard R. Bond, vice-president and dean of faculties, as he addressed 250 new members of the ISU faculty during an orientation to the campus for the start of the fall semester.

Dean Bond cited four other major points of emphasis for the immediate future at ISU. These were continued concentration on a quality undergraduate education; a commitment to the problems of minority cultures; and careful attention to the university's teacher education program.

As the first concern of the university, however, Dean Bond declared, "We must make every effort to restore public confidence in our enterprise."

Opening Under Cloud
He declared that ISU must strive to maintain, increase and reward a competent and extremely sizeable corps of teachers whose commitment is to help students learn.

It is equally important, he added, to maintain a climate receptive to innovation, both in teaching procedures and in program. "I hope our trademark here as in all parts of our activities will be a student-centered graduate education."

Black students—"I am personally committed, as is this institution, to the belief that the problems of our minority cultures and our urban areas are the most significant social problems of our time, and that universities such as this must assume a major responsibility in finding solutions to these problems."

He mentioned ISU's efforts in these directions, including the President's Task Force on Intergroup Relations and the High Potential Student program, which is the Office of Economic Opportunity commission among the best in the nation and is accordingly providing a major portion of its funding.

During the past three years under HPS, Bond said, ISU has brought in more than 300 new freshmen and transfer students, primarily black, and for the most part from the inner-city of metropolitan areas. They largely meet ISU admissions requirements but have been disadvantaged in their educational experiences.

"We have a well-developed support system to provide tutoring, counseling and academic advising services for these students, but they need the understanding and consideration of all of us."

"We do not expect special standards to be established for these students, but we do expect and in fact insist that their needs as individuals be considered and respected in their experiences here."

Teacher education—"Let us not forget that not only is the preparation of teachers the greatest single strength of this institution, but also that the profession of teaching is a most honorable one."

"Our teacher education program needs careful attention this year."

"We have the opportunity, if we grasp it—if we will keep our eyes on the prize of re-establishing our national reputation of two-thirds of a century ago, and instead of being just another emerging institution constantly trying to catch the pack, taking our place with distinction near the lead."

Graduate education—"Although I am determined that our undergraduate programs must have first priority, I am also convinced that we have many opportunities here for development of innovative and worthwhile graduate programs."

Again, he called for "leap-frogging" what other institutions are doing.

Our growth in the field of graduate education must come through the searching out of new programs in the less common disciplines and in the establishment of new types of doctoral programs, more humane and more reasonable than the old, when we are dealing with conventional disciplines."

College Grads Found Job Hunt a Shock but Succeeded

Despite bleak job-placement prospects predicted earlier this year, most 1970 college grads have found jobs.

They may not be "the job," "the company" or "the location" they preferred. But they are jobs.

In other words, 1970 saw a marked change in the job market. The year's college graduates found they could no longer do the picking and choosing. Instead, in many areas they had to work hard at it — and had to settle for what they could get.

The shock to this year's class, bred in prosperity and conditioned to the "name-your-own-price" experiences of previous years, was almost too much for some to take.

The Family Economics Bureau, after a survey of more than 100 colleges and universities, found that most graduates, however, did survive the shock.

'A Crazy Year'

Reports from college placement officials showed little consistency. One said "it was a crazy year." That seems to sum it up pretty well.

Some schools report that a number of grads took non-professional jobs as a temporary stopgap while waiting for the job market to open up. Others took jobs with lesser salary potential and fewer opportunities for advancement.

Some went into fields outside their major. Many are going back to school for more education; others are going directly into military service.

Liberal arts graduates were the hardest hit this year. Engineers suffered almost as badly, mostly due to cutbacks in aerospace and defense spending.

Accountants were in demand everywhere — about the only consistently bright spot in the whole picture. Job offers for other business grads were down an average of 25%.

Teachers found it hard to get jobs in many areas. But if they were willing to go where the jobs were — primarily in rural areas — there were jobs available.

Some schools reported only 35% of their teachers would be placed this fall; others expected 100% placement.

A sampling of placement officials in February 1970 showed a greater pessimism on the part of the placement officers than proved by August to be the case.

In many schools, students were alerted to the situation early in the year. Thus, they had the opportunity to broaden their interests and to be more flexible about what they would take and where they would go. Students so prepared had far less trouble.

Research Funds Cut

Holders of advanced degrees generally found the going rougher than did undergraduates. Doctors of philosophy were hardest hit, research funds having been drastically cut in education and industry.

Masters of business administration, particularly with engineering and technical backgrounds, found the demand good.

In education, some school systems gave preference to a master's degree with additional teaching experience, while others, to save money, went for bachelor's degrees which call for starting at a lower point in the typical school system's salary schedule.

Some universities reported that Ph.D.'s unable to find jobs went back to school to do additional post-doctoral research, hoping the situation would ease up.

Computers, Marketing

The best sources of jobs, in addition to accounting, were in finance, banking and insurance as well as in data processing and in computer sciences. Retailing, sales and marketing were also good for business and liberal arts grads. Chemical engineers found things best in the petroleum and pharmaceutical industries.

Municipalities and utility companies, as well as construction and heavy equipment firms, were interested in civil and mechanical engineers.

Despite the tighter job market, there was no let-up in starting salaries. Almost without exception, salaries offered were higher than those offered 1969 grads.

Accountants jumped the highest, often as much as $1000 over last year's offers. New contracts in most areas raised beginning teachers' salaries from 4% to 10% over 1969. Although salaries in all fields went up to some extent, starting offers for men rose at a faster rate than those for women graduates.

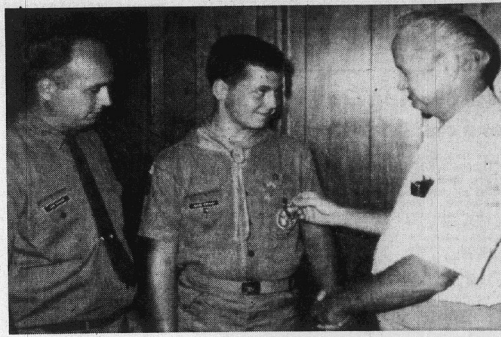

Slowest in Decade

Many factors combined to make the 1970 job market the slowest since 1960.

Cutbacks in federal defense spending and research, high interest rates reducing corporate spending for plants and equipment, a squishy stock market, the profit squeeze and an over-abundant supply of teachers in the liberal arts field all took their toll.

The outlook is cloudy for next year's class and for '70 grads still waiting and hoping for that dream job to come along.

Several schools report some companies have already canceled recruitment interviews for this fall.

Wayne Kopchak New Eagle Scout

Wayne Kopchak, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kopchak Jr., 821 Greenwood street, Madison, has been presented the coveted Eagle Scout award by Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison at a court of honor.

The new Eagle is a member of Troop 21, sponsored by the First United Presbyterian Church of Madison. Presently he is patrol leader of the Raven patrol.

He has been active in the scouting program since age eight, when he joined the Cub Scouts. He earned the Webelos award in cub scouting. As a scout, he earned 21 merit badges.

He is an eighth grade student at Madison junior high school. He plans to continue in the Boy Scout program until he becomes eligible for Exploring, at which time he has expressed a desire to join law enforcement specialty Post 10-4, sponsored by the Madison Lions and police.

John Kopchak, his father, is scoutmaster of Troop 21 and has been an active adult scout for several years. He is recreation director of the city of Madison.

War of Bands Contest Set Sept. 27 at Park

Area music groups may register this week and next for the Granite City Jaycees' annual "War Between the Bands" contest, to be staged at Wilson Park rink pavilion at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 27.

Band members must register their group for the event by Friday, Sept. 25, at Fornaszewski's Music Store, 3009 Nameoki road, according to John Fornaszewski, Jaycee project chairman.

Pop-rock groups will compete this year for cash awards totaling $100, the chairman said. First place prize money will be $100, with the runner-up group receiving $50.

The local winner will not compete in a state contest as in previous years, Fornaszewski said. However, the chairman noted that the winning band will secure bookings for various functions sponsored by the Jaycee organization, in addition to the cash award.

The only restriction governing eligibility for the "War Between the Bands" contest concerns the age of performers. Fornaszewski said. Entertainers performing with a group must be 13-years-old and not over 19 years of age by the contest date—Sept. 27, he explained.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the chairman at 877-3475.

SP/4 Evans Arrives on Furlough from Germany

Army Specialist Four Robert H. Evans, 38, son of Mrs. Beulah Wallace, 2842 Ralph street, arrived home this week from Frankfurt, Germany, where he was stationed the past six months with the 24th Engineer Battalion.

The local serviceman will spend a 30-day furlough here before reporting in mid-October at Fort Lewis, Wash., for assignment to Vietnam. He attended Granite City high school and volunteered for Army service in June 1969.

While serving in Germany, SP/4 Evans was cited for "loyal performance of duty" and received a citation from Maj. Gen. William W. Todd, US Army, commanding.

A summer art workshop for high school students in the 10th through the 12th grades is offered by Southern Illinois University.

Orientation Day Held for Parents At St. Teresa's

Parent Orientation Day was held at St. Teresa Academy this week involving many experiences which are similar to those students in a modern high school experience.

The opener was a pre-test on educational goals, which not only involved every parent present in the typical fashion of a contemporary student, but also evoked and led into a series of interesting follow-ups.

Members of the faculty—Sister Carol Werner, ASC, Rev. Stan Roth and Miss Suzanne Schmitz—presented explanations of major changes and the rationale for the relatively large amount of unscheduled time which students are expected to learn to use wisely.

Another feature was a brainstorming session in which parents listed things liked or disliked about school, obviously the parents also lamented the boring, stationary tasks of a school day and remember as pleasant things involving action. Seminars were formed of small groups of parents who then proceeded to the various resource centers as students would do during a typical day. Here they met with members of the department faculty to receive explanations and have questions answered about English, math, science, fashion studio, business education, and the foreign-language and reading programs.

Again in full session at about 4 p.m., the parents heard Ken Pajares of the social studies department explain the credit/non-credit system of promotion, without grades but with a written comment from the teacher on the student's achievement of definite pre-announced objectives. Discussion followed, and then refreshments were served by the Mother's Club.

St. Teresa's has also announced an Open House for parents during the afternoon of Oct. 25 as a part of American Education Week.

Central JHS Students To Use 'Y' Facilities

Expanded use of YMCA facilities by Central junior high school students was approved by the Granite City board of education Monday night.

Miss Barbara Kerch, consultant in physical education, said in a letter that because of the recognized inadequacy of P. E. facilities at Central compared to the other junior high schools, the proximity to the "Y" and the need for all children to acquire water safety skills, "I am hopeful that we can in the near future expand our use of the 'Y' for P. E."

She said the gym is available at $4 per hour and the pool at $6 per hour during school hours. Permission also was obtained for continuation of a swimming program at the "Y" for special education students housed at Central for the rest of the semester.

The program will be conducted two hours per week, with the boys swimming on Tuesdays and the girls on Thursdays.

It also was announced that Central has been accepted as a member of the Madison county junior high conference and has been extended an invitation to compete at the seventh and eighth grade levels in basketball and track.

The future of baseball as a varsity sport at Southern Illinois University-Western appears very bright, according to Coach Roy E. Lee, whose first year in 1969 season posted an 8-5 record. Says Lee, "The St. Louis metropolitan area has schools on both sides of the Mississippi, field exceptionally strong teams. A large percentage of state champions in both Illinois and Missouri come from the St. Louis and the St. Clair and Madison county area."

Greenville Enrollment Nears Record at 822

The 271 freshmen who registered early in September composed the largest freshman class in the history of the college, club during the 1968 season. Previous high of 254 was in 1965, while last year's class numbered 192.

Included in the student body are 174 sophomores, 189 juniors, 171 seniors and 17 special students. The college continues to maintain its near 1:1 male/female ratio with 409 men and 413 women attending.

Stevenson Urges Air Boycott to Deal With Piracy

State Treasurer Adlai E. Stevenson II has urged an immediate international air boycott of all nations condoning skyjacking as part of a three-point program to deal with the piracy in the skies.

Stevenson, a Democratic nominee for United States Senator, outlined his plan at a meeting of the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Iron Shipworkers, Blacksmiths, Forgers and Helpers at Chicago.

Stevenson also urged a new international agreement on air piracy which would bind all nations to prosecute skyjackers. Stevenson said work should begin immediately on the development of electronic devices and equipment which would detect weapons brought aboard a plane either in baggage or on the person of a passenger. Stevenson said the project should be given governmental assistance.

Stevenson also approved the suggestions that armed guards be placed aboard international flights.

In discussing the boycott of nations condoning the hijacking, Stevenson specifically mentioned Iraq and Syria. If the international air boycott does not succeed, boycotts on maritime shipping and trade should be implemented.

125 Airline Seizures
Since the beginning of 1969, there have been more than 125 illegal seizures of airlines and at least 15 incidents of sabotage. More than 7000 passengers from 45 nations have been victimized by these crimes and, according to international authorities, 96 persons have died, Stevenson said.

"This long record of air piracy, coupled with the stream of financial threats and action emanating from the guerrillas should have put the United States government on the alert. The armed guards who will now begin to ride international flights could have and should have been on the jet which new sits in the Jordanian desert. The lack of foresight, the inability to take decisive action until crisis is upon us, the feeble excuses — all are typical of the United States policy in the Middle East and around the world."

Possible Rate Hike For Drainage District

The possibility of a rate increase for operation of the Chouteau - Nameoki - Venice Love and Drainage district has been disclosed by Steve Novosel, secretary of the board.

The present operating budget is $2000 per year, but in preparing next year's tentative budget it was found that operating expenses have more than doubled.

"It looks like we'll need $13,000 next year," Novosel said. The new budget, which Novosel is preparing this month, will be presented to the board at its regular meeting Oct. 5.

A special public meeting also will be scheduled to discuss the budget, but no date has yet been set for the meeting, Novosel said. Howard Kelso, president of the three-man board, said that the budget must be ready for the Oct. 5 meeting. "There will be a little increase, I'm sure, but what they ask for won't happen," he said, referring to the possibility of a rate change. The third member of the board is Harold Carson. The board Saturday held a meeting at Sun and Fun, attended by 18 persons. A progress report was given and possibility of the rate increase was discussed.

Nameoki Plans Legal Action to Remove Hazard

On the advice of its attorney, William Schooley, the Nameoki town board decided Monday night to file suit against a subdivision developer responsible for an open basement that board members contend is a public nuisance and a dangerous hazard.

Danger to children playing in the area was discussed by the board during the regular town meeting. Residents said the area was grown up in weeds around the basement structure.

A letter from Sen. Ralph Smith (R-Alton) was read concerning plans by the Corps of Engineers for draining the Do-broy slough area.

The Environmental Protection Agency notified the board by letter that its request for aid in building a sewage treatment system could not be considered at this time.

The agency said 275 downstate requests for assistance by the federal government have been received. The Nameoki township request is number 176 on the priority list.

The federal agency said the first 37 projects depicted available funds for the coming year.

Douglas Teator, a board member, reported that Township Inspector William Mullen turned in 29 health complaints. Most of the complaints concern open overflowing septic tanks, garbage, high weeds, and trash.

Town Clerk Louis Whitsell reported that Rabies Control Officer Kenneth White is experiencing difficulty in picking up dogs because his truck does not have an official designation on it causing some people to question his authority. Supervisor Harry Briggs suggested that they purchase a set of magnetic signs for the truck. Whitsell also suggested White should be compensated.

Whitsell made a motion to proceed with the attorney's recommendations in filing suit against persons whose properties create health problems.

Briggs instructed Schooley to proceed with legal action. The purchase of a new copy machine to replace one stolen several months ago was considered. The board will advise for bids.

Whitsell suggested that the board of auditors should see all bills, including those for general assistance, prior to approval for payment. Briggs agreed with the recommendation.

Teator said he had received complaints of heavy trucks damaging east Madison and suggested a five-ton load limit sign to keep the trucks on concrete streets be erected. Briggs urged that the Sheriff be asked to enforce a load limit. Charles Hanks, highway commissioner, is to investigate the legality of imposing a load limit.

A need for dead-end signs on Bend road also was discussed. Some motorists believe the road is a short cut to route 11, it was said, but learn after driving several miles that it is a dead end.

In response to a question about drainage problems on Snowbird lane, Briggs said that legal action is pending to stop all building until the subdivision solves the drainage problem.

AWARD TO PRESS-RECORD. A plaque is shown being presented Tuesday by Jay G. Philpott (center), director of the Springfield district, U. S. Internal Revenue Service. Accepting for the newspaper are Paul G. Halbert (left) and William F. Winter (right). The wood and bronze plaque was given "in grateful recognition of efforts and generous cooperation in providing helpful federal tax information to the public during the 1970 income tax filing period."

Balance of Con Con Product and Comparison with the Old Illinois Charter Keys to Voters' Decision

(Springfield Scene)

The question of balance is the most important quality for any voters to consider when studying the proposed new Constitution.

Nowhere is the question of balance more critical than in the area of revenue.

This was one of the most important reasons the Constitutional Convention was called, and an equally important reason taxpayers should scrutinize the convention's product before making a decision how to vote Dec. 15.

The total tax picture is dependent upon the interrelationships of the Revenue and Local Government articles.

There were advance hopes for a Revenue Article acceptable to all citizens of the state, both corporate and individual, which would:

Abolish ad valorem taxation of personal property.

Maintain uniformity for taxation of real estate taxes. If possible, clearly limit the kind and degree of any classification.

Prohibit a graduated income tax.

Require corporate and individual income tax rates to be equal, or, if this was impossible, to limit any difference in rates.

Allow a true sales tax with exemptions.

Establish more realistic limits on state and local indebtedness.

REVENUE PROVISIONS:

The convention did abolish all personal property taxes with an eight-year waiting period to allow the General Assembly to replace the revenue.

The convention imposed a requirement that whatever class of taxpayers still paying personal property taxes by the deadline would have to pay an additional state tax to make up the revenue lost to local governments.

This almost certainly meant an additional statewide tax of some sort on business, since individual personal property taxes were most likely to be abolished long before the deadline.

A constitutional amendment will be presented to voters in November to abolish individual personal property tax.

The convention did not to enforce uniformity in real estate taxation, but rather allow all counties with more than 200,000 population to elect a classification subject to limitations imposed by the General Assembly.

There is de facto classification of real estate now, particularly in Cook County, and to varying degrees in most of the other 101 counties.

But this type of provision could lead the way to a yearly battle in county boards and the legislature to continually liberalize classification now in effect—or, conversely severely restrict present practices.

The convention did prohibit a graduated income tax and restricted any state income tax to a flat rate with no more than 8.5 corporate-individual ratio.

This is the same ratio as now exists with the 4½-2½ corporate-individual rates.

Attempts to impose a 5% ceiling on individual rates failed.

Also on the plus side, the convention did allow a true sales tax permitting the General Assembly to allow exemptions and removed the present unrealistic $200,000 state debt limit.

In place of the old debt limit, the new constitution would allow the legislature to issue true revenue bonds by a simple majority of both houses.

But general obligation bonds and any bonds issued by a quasi-public corporation—such as the Illinois Building Authority—would be subject to a 3% test of both houses of the General Assembly or a simple majority of the legislature plus approval of a statewide referendum.

LOCAL TAXES:

Equally important to the taxpayer's pocketbook is the Local Government Article which permits local governmental units the power to govern themselves and impose taxes.

Calls were made for a completely revamped Local Government Article to give local governments the power to act in matters on which the legislature had not acted—or residual powers—except for annexation, licensing, bonding, taxing and other revenue producing powers.

The convention gave local governments all these powers and more—but with restrictions.

Given to local governments were the power to tax, to license for regulation, and to regulate for the public health and welfare.

These broad home rule powers are given to all communities with 25,000 or more population and to counties with an elected chief executive officer.

Those local governmental units not qualifying still come under the purview of the General Assembly—as now—unless they wish to choose home rule by a local referendum.

Specifically, local home rule units have many different taxes available to them which they can levy by local ordinance, with no limits.

And... all ceilings on local real estate taxes have been removed, allowing home rule units complete control of rates and administration.

None of the taxing authority granted to home rule units by the constitution can be restricted or taken away without a 3/4 vote of both houses of the legislature.

However, the legislature can exercise a power it deems of statewide interest and override a local ordinance by a simple majority, but only on matters other than taxes.

This would not preclude local governments from acting in the same area concerning municipal services, prohibited by the legislature.

The convention did agree to limit local income taxes or licensing for revenue unless authorized by the General Assembly and to keep legislative powers in the legislature.

The local debt provisions give home rule units a definite amount of bonding power without authorization by the General Assembly.

Home rule units would be allowed to incur debt, based on property taxes, at an aggregate of:

1% of the total assessed valuation for cities over 500,000 population.

1% for cities between 25,000 and 500,000 population.

1/2 of 1% for units choosing home rule under 25,000 population.

Any amount of debt above these levels could be authorized by a referendum.

Also could limit debt of local school districts and other local governmental units (such as municipalities) (such as counties).

THE TOTAL PICTURE:

In effect, the total revenue picture:

1. Gives local government home rule units broad authority to levy many taxes which can only be denied them by a 3/4 vote of the legislature.

2. Gives the state wide authority to levy taxes and to share the revenues from these sources with local governments.

3. Allows the legislature to grant authority for additional taxes to local governments.

4. Eliminates local property tax limits for home rule units and allows local governments to set their own "free debt" based on those taxes.

5. Maintains a flat-rate income tax with local corporate-individual ratio and requires the General Assembly to impose an additional tax to replace the abolished personal property taxes.

Top U. S. Drivers Expected Sunday For Branson Memorial at Tri-City

Many of the top-name U. S. Auto Club drivers in the country are expected here for the Branson-Memorial Midway Car Race at the Tri-City Speedway, 5100 Nameoki road, Sunday afternoon.

Names known from the Indianapolis 500, such as Johnny Parsons Jr. of Van Nuys, Calif., Arnie Knepper of Belleville, Mo., Kenyon of Lebanon, Ind., and even Johnny Rutherford of Van Nuys are slated to be on hand to compete in the USAAC-sanctioned race.

Dave Strickland of Walnut Creek, Calif., current USAAC midwest car point leader, and Jimmy Caruthers of Anaheim, Calif., second in the standings, can be expected to put on a wheel-to-wheel race and the point lead may change hands during the race. Strickland leads Caruthers by only five points, 359 to 354.

40 Entries Likely
About 40 drivers are expected to compete, including Bob Tattersall of Sreator, last year's point winner; Bill Engelhart of Madison, Wis., who holds the one-lap track records (24.11 seconds); Bob Wente, of St. Louis, former feature winner here; and Les Scott, last year's feature winner.

Others expected include Bobby Grim of Indianapolis, Ind.; Chuck Arnold of Gardena, Calif.; Harry Penn and Roger West of Joliet and Gerry McClug of Phoenix, Ariz.

The USAAC midwest circuit brought the cars into the Midwest with a race at Hale's Corner, Wis., Sept. 10 in which 56 cars competed.

Tomorrow night they will compete at Springfield, Ill., and on Saturday the drivers will race at Lake Hills Speedway, Valley Park, Mo., before arriving here on Sunday.

Families to Be Present
Members of both the Branson and Mueller families will be present for the memorial race. Mrs. Grace Mueller, wife of the late Dale Mueller of St. Louis, USAAC photographer who was killed six years ago when grandstands collapsed during a race at the Illinois State Fairgrounds, will be present to award the trophies.

Roger Branson, son of the late driver Don Branson killed five years ago in a race at Ascot Speedway, Gardena, Calif., will compete in the race here. Roger was 26th in the midwest division point standings last year.

Warmups will begin on the half-mile oval at noon Sunday with qualifications beginning at 1:30 and racing at about 2:30.

Auto Damage Slight
Damage was slight as an auto driven by Mary P. Earls, 2837 Edison avenue, pulling slowly into traffic, was struck from behind by a car driven by Christ E. Tylon, 1658 Edison avenue, at 7:45 a.m. Tuesday at Niedringhaus avenue and State street.

No Hunting Permits Needed in Some Game Areas

The Illinois Department of Conservation manages several upland game areas where hunting permits are not required.

Tom Evans, supervisor of the division of game, reports that at some areas hunters will be required to report to a check station. No fees are charged to hunt on these state lands.

"We ask hunters to do this so that we may obtain information on the amount of hunting pressure and the harvest," Evans said.

Check stations will be operated at the following areas: Hamilton county near McLeansboro; Lake Argyle in McDonough county near Colchester; Lake Ramsey in Fayette county near Ramsey; McLean county near LeRoy; Randolph county near Chester; Red Hills in Lawrence county, west of Lawrenceville; Saline county near Equality; Sam Dale Lake in Wayne county near Clene; Sam Parr in Jasper county near Newton; Stephen A. Forbes in Marion county near Omega; Washington county near Nashville; and Kankakee River near Kankakee.

Season Dates for these areas are: Squirrel, Sept. 15-Nov. 15; dove, Sept. 15-Nov. 9; woodcock, Oct. 1-Dec. 4; cock pheasant, Nov. 14-Dec. 31; quail, Nov. 14-Dec. 31; rabbit, Nov. 14-Jan. 31. All dates are inclusive. On the Kankakee area, squirrel and dove seasons opened Sept. 1.

Deer hunting with a bow and arrow is legal on these areas except at Lake Argyle, Lake Ramsey, Red Hills and Stephen A. Forbes during the following periods: Oct. 1-Nov. 15; Nov. 23-Dec. 6; Dec. 14-Dec. 31. All dates are inclusive.

Sportsmen may hunt on only those portions of the areas posted as open to hunting, Evans said. They must park in designated areas. Roadside parking is not permitted.

All hunters except squirrel hunters must check in. All hunters, including squirrel hunters, must check out. As a hunter checks in he will be given an identification patch that must be worn on the back of his coat or vest.

Shotguns, bows and arrows are the only firearm legal for these areas, except that deer, squirrels and rabbits may be taken with bows, Evans said.

On the Kankakee area, no more than 75 sportsmen may hunt at one time.

Shooting hours on these areas are: Squirrels, sunrise until noon; doves, 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.; deer (bow only), woodcock, cock pheasants, quail and rabbits: 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., except that the deer may be hunted on the Kankakee area from 1/2 hour before sunrise to 1/2 hour before sunset.

However, on opening day for pheasant, quail and rabbits, the opening hour conforms to state regulations; no one may hunt before noon.

Deer Hunting
The Hamilton county and Saline county areas will be open for deer hunting during the shotgun season, Nov. 20, 21 and 22 and Dec. 11, 12 and 13. Shooting hours on those days are from 6:30 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Anyone who hunts on any area during the deer season must wear a vivid red, orange or yellow cap and vest or outer garment, Evans warned.

Other public areas where sportsmen are not required to check in or out are: Douglas county near Hindsboro; Pope-Massac near Bay City; Marshall county, south of Lacon; Woodford county, north of Springfield; Henderson State Forest near Keithsburg; Mason State Forest near Forest City; Shelby State Forest near Clarksville; Union State Forest near Anna-Jonesboro; Sangois in Mason and Cass counties, west of Chandlerville; and Horseshoe Lake near Olive Branch, in Alexander county. Only that portion of the Horseshoe Lake Area south of Promised Land road is open for hunting.

Like the check station areas, hunting is restricted to portions posted as open to hunting. Squirrels, doves, woodcock, quail, rabbits and pheasants may be taken during the regular open season for these species. Deer may be hunted with bows. Hunters must use shotguns, except that deer, squirrels and rabbits may be taken with bows.

The Sangois, Pope-Massac, Marshall county and Woodford county areas and the Henderson, Mason and Union forests are open for deer hunting Nov. 20, 21 and 22 and Dec. 11, 12 and 13. The Pope-Massac Area will be closed to upland game hunting during the deer season.

Permits for Pheasants
Three areas where permits are required to hunt pheasants Nov. 14 through Dec. 6 are open for hunting before and after that period without a permit. They are: Des Plaines near Wilmington, Green River in Lee county, south of Dixon, and Troquois county near Beaverville.

Deer, squirrels, doves, woodcock, cock pheasants, Hungarian partridge, quail and rabbits may be hunted on these areas during the season for those species. Deer must be hunted with bow and arrow.

No one may hunt on the areas from Nov. 14 through Dec. 6 without a pheasant permit issued by the Springfield office of the department, Evans warned.

The portions of the Des Plaines area where sportsmen may hunt without a permit are west of U. S. Route 66 and east of U. S. Route 66, north of Willington road. Hunting is prohibited south of Wilmington road. Rabbit hunters are required to check in and out on this area.

On the Iroquois County Area, sportsmen must follow regulations as set forth in the Game Code regarding methods of taking game, seasons and bag limits.

Duck Hunters to Enjoy 55 Days in Season This Year

The Illinois duck hunters will have 55 days this year to enjoy freezing slowly in a blind, according to a spokesman for the Illinois Department of Conservation.

Tom Evans, supervisor of the division of game, said the season will begin at sunrise Saturday, Oct. 17, and end at sunset Thursday, Dec. 10. Hunting hours will be from sunrise until sunset every day.

"We will have 25 more days to hunt than we did last year," Evans said. "Excellent breeding conditions in the prairie provinces of Canada have supplied us with a good population of ducks. The bag limit is larger, too. However, the method used to determine the limit is vastly different from anything ever tried in Illinois."

"We will operate under a system of 100 points," Evans said. "This has been tried in restricted areas in Colorado and California, but has never been attempted on a statewide basis. The hunter who knows how to identify ducks in flight will have an advantage over the man who is not able to do so."

Explains Point System
Evans explained the point system as follows: A point value has been assigned to different species and sexes of ducks, depending on their abundance. A hunter reaches his daily limit when the point value of the last duck shot, added to the sum of point values of other birds already taken during that day, equals or exceeds 100 points. The possession limit is the maximum number of birds of species and sex which could legally be bagged in two days of hunting.

Values assigned for species and sexes are: 80 points—hen mallards, black ducks, wood ducks, redheads, canvasbacks, hooded mergansers; 20 points—drake mallards, hen pintails and ring-necked ducks.

All other species and sexes of ducks count 10 points each. Evans said that coots are not included in the point system. Hunting will be limited to 15 coots a day and 30 in possession.

Goose season dates and hours are the same as duck season dates and hours except in Union, Alexander, Jackson, and Williamson counties.

In those four southern counties the season will begin at sunrise Thursday, Nov. 12, and end at 3 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 23. However, if a quota of 28,000 geese is reached before Dec. 23, the season will be closed by order of the director of the Department of Conservation.

The total state quota is 35,000 geese. Goose hunting hours in the southern counties are from sunrise until 3 p.m. every day.

Five Geese a Day
Hunters may take five geese a day, but of this total not more than two Canada geese or two white-fronted geese or one Canada and one white-front in the aggregate may be killed.

The possession limit of five geese may not include more than four Canada or white-fronts in the aggregate, of which not more than two may be white-fronted geese.

Geese killed in Illinois must be transported as the personal baggage of the hunter, Evans said. They cannot be shipped, transported or carried by common carrier, postal service or by any other person other than the hunter who bagged them.

Two Autos Collide
Autos driven by Gary L. Wilson, East St. Louis, and Leonard S. Beedle, 3088 Wayne avenue, collided at 4:10 p.m. Monday as both were headed north on Madison avenue at Niedringhaus avenue.

1500 Hear Talk Here On Church's Challenge

"Refreshing from the first session to the last" were the words of Angelo Scaglione, presiding minister of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, in describing the September "The Word of God is Alive" circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in Granite City.

"The beauty of the assembly could be seen in the love and unity manifested by all as they worked together for a successful convention," Scaglione said. The first day included an ordination ceremony for 38 new ministers. A special representative of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, Robert Garrett, district supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses, gave the candidates for immersion counsel from the Bible.

A highlight of the second day was a talk by Garrett on "Who Will Conquer the World in the 1970s?" Commenting on this subject, he said, "The Bible shows that each true worshiper of God is in effect in a real fight—to conquer the world or be conquered by it."

Integrity Tested

"Down through the centuries there has been a warlike attempt to break the integrity of God's worshippers. By providing faithful unto death, the early Christians were, in a complete sense, world conquerors. "Though some Christians in this generation were tortured and killed, they were not conquered; they triumphed. The book, 'The Nazi State,' by Professor W. Eberstein, says: 'The sufferings of Jehovah's Witnesses in the camps were even worse than those meted out to Jews, pacifists or Communists. Small as the sect is, each member seems to be a fortress which can be destroyed but never taken.'"

"Neither of the major blocs of nations now striving for physical conquest of the world will succeed in doing so. "Who will conquer the world? You will, if you by faith stick to God's word and do His will; now you will thus be rewarded with eternal peace in a new system of things on earth."

Attendance for this public lecture was 1327. Scaglione concluded, "The local congregation has benefited immensely in recent months from both the convention at Busch Stadium in St. Louis and this one in Granite City. We look forward to sharing these benefits in our public ministry."

Farmers to Initiate Conservation Programs

Cost-sharing conservation practices with environment benefiting values are expected to be installed by approximately 650 farmers in Madison county this year, according to Lee Rogers, director of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

"In fact, some 300 farmers already have reported completion of their conservation practices, and about 200 are nearing completion," he said. In addition, the fall sign-up for conservation work just completed will result in about 150 more farmers participating in the program.

Under the annual program administered by the county ASC committee, the government shares costs with farmers for installation of needed soil, water, woodland, and wildlife conservation measures which benefit the environment for all, Rogers said.

"For instance, the U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates that about 85 percent of the conservation cost-sharing practices across the Nation help in the fight against pollution. We feel that the farmers in Madison County rate well up in this effort," Rogers added.

Among major practices here are Pasture Improvement, Soil Waterways, Terraces, Farm Ponds, Erosion Control Structures, Critical Area Seeding, Tree Planting and Timber Stand Improvement—all of which help keep sediment, farm chemicals and fertilizers on the land and out of streams and lakes.

Housing Talk on Sept. 24

Robert H. Freilich, a professor of law at Kansas City, Mo., will discuss "Housing" at the 32nd quarterly meeting of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission at 6:30 p.m. Sept. 24 at Sunset Hills Country club.

AN EARLY START is being made in the planning of a Boy Scout "together we organize" dinner for the Quad-City area on Oct. 21. About 200 people representing potential sponsors of the Boy Scout program will receive invitations soon from Henry D. Karandjeff, dinner host. Reviewing plans for the dinner are (left to right) Leo Schermer, member of the Boy Scout Council executive board; Mr. Karandjeff and Mick Strange, general chairman.

State Has 136,977 Vets Receiving Compensation

Approximately 136,977 veterans of the 3,180,457 veterans receiving disability compensation or pensions from the Veterans Administration are from Illinois. According to John B. Naser, director of the VA regional office in Chicago.

Of these 88,415 veterans are receiving disability payments for service-connected reasons and 50,562 for reasons not related to military service, Naser said. Statistics were made available today based on June 1970 reports.

Compensation is paid to veterans who suffered disability as a result of service and is paid regardless of other income. Pensions are paid to disabled and needy veterans without consideration of disability while in service, but is based on the veteran's income.

Nationally, 2,961,466 veterans receive payments for injuries or illnesses relating to their military service.

168,772 Vietnam Vets Of the 168,772 Vietnam era veterans receiving compensation or pension, 6,319 are from Illinois, and 9,810 of the 264,859 Korean Conflict veterans are from this state. Most veterans receiving com-

the dishwasher skeptic

To the Illinois woman who's "from Missouri" when it comes to dishwashers.

We'll show you! You've had a yearning for a better way to spend your time than doing dishes.

But you're too practical to be sold on a dishwasher until you've seen for yourself.

Until you've seen that a dishwasher really does get dishes cleaner than you could by hand. That it really sanitizes. Really does pots and pans. Really saves all those hours of drudgery. And really doesn't cost that much to own and operate.

O.K. Our Home Economists were skeptical, too. They had to be shown that a dishwasher lives up to its promises. Now they'll be happy to show you.

Here's your invitation to a Dishwasher Demonstration Party in your neighborhood. Positively no obligation. We don't sell dishwashers—we just believe in them. Fill out your R.S.V.P. below and mail it now. We'll let you know when our Dishwasher Party is taking place in your neighborhood. If your husband is one of those practical types too, bring him along.

Visitor Recalls Old Days; Once Farmed Depot Area

Farming the land where Wilson Park and the U. S. Army Depot are now located, and riding a trolley car to the Mississippi to cross the river on a ferry before McKinley Bridge was constructed, were among the memories of Vesie Dickey, Evansville, Ind., one of the early builders of Granite City, during a visit last week to the home of his nephew, Don Partney, mayor of Granite City.

Dickey and his parents came to Granite City in 1896, the year the city was incorporated. His father became the first known painter-contractor here. As a young boy, he became an apprentice to his father while he attended school in the 20th and Benton street Church. The first schoolhouse was built a few years later at 20th street and Missouri avenue.

Put Out of Job
After completing his schooling, he went to work for the Bull Durham Tobacco Co. in St. Louis as a sign maker. The widespread acceptance of stencils for signmaking in 1910 put him out of a job.

He returned to Granite City that year and took a job driving a team for a local time and cement company which was located at 20th street and the railroad tracks. At that time he was making $10 in a 60-hour week.

In 1913 he was instrumental in the formation of the Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union, Local 61. Soon after its organization, the union struck for an additional $2.25 per week, and the company fired all of its drivers, including Dickey. He and several other drivers followed until 1917 he had managed to save enough money to start his own contracting company for general and special work. In 1918 he rented a farm from Fred Niedringhaus — land which is now partly occupied by Wilson Park — and started farming to supplement his income from the contracting company.

Company a Success
In its early years, the company was a success and helped supply materials to construct a

GC School Board Creates Added Secretary Post

The Granite City board of education accepted the resignation of one teacher and employed another during personnel action at its meeting Monday night.

Resigning was Mary Parchment, a teacher at Parkview elementary school, because of health.

Hired was Mrs. Diane Morthland, 24, of 2711 Cayuga street, an EMH teacher at Central junior high school. She has one year of experience and holds a bachelor of science degree from Illinois State University.

An extension of leave was given to Clarence Campbell, teacher at Logan school, who listed health reasons.

Employed as a library secretary at the high school was Mrs. Arlene Smith, 3851 Circle drive.

Others resigning were Frances Jones, cafeteria worker at Stallings school, and Virginia Messey, cafeteria worker on leave.

The board established an added secretary position because of the increased work load in pupil personnel services. One position previously served by Messey, but with the change, there will be separate full-time secretaries to the director of pupil personnel services and to the director of athletics.

Victor G. Anderson, controller, and Tully Huebner, director of buildings and grounds, were authorized to attend the annual meetings of the Association of School Business Officials of the U. S. and Canada in Seattle in October and the Illinois Association of School Business Officials in early May.

Miss Barbara Kerch, consultant in physical education, was authorized to attend a national conference on perceptual motor skills Oct. 1-2 at Cincinnati, an officers workshop of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, of which she is vice-president, on Oct. 9 at Angora, Ind., and to its executive committee meeting Oct. 15-16 at Washington, D. C.

Economy On Way Up, Sen. Smith Tells Meeting

U. S. Senator Ralph Tyler Smith believes President Nixon has succeeded in arresting the Vietnam-bread inflationary policies of his Democratic predecessors.

"There are all kinds of signs the economy is on the way up after eight months of decline," Smith said at a Dundee Township dinner. "To me that is proof the President's anti-inflation campaign is working."

Smith pointed to a decline in the general increase of prices in the private sector of the economy from 5.3% in the first quarter of the year to 4.1% in the second quarter of the year. He said consumer prices for May and June increased at an annual rate of 5% after peaking at 7% last April.

"There can be no question about it said Smith, 'We are making progress in our fight against inflation. Productivity is again on the way up. There is a leveling off of unit labor costs and wholesale price and interest rates are working down.'

Road Back Is Bumpy

Smith said the road back from a wartime to a peacetime economy was bound to be bumpy in spots. He said the transition could be expedited by a balanced federal budget.

"I just don't subscribe to the theory that deficit spending should be tolerated, much less promoted," said Smith. "The inflation psychology which dominated the so-called 'Soaring Sixties' was responsible for the fiscal mess inherited by President Nixon."

Smith said the President has reduced defense expenditures sharply and chopped expenditures for the Vietnam war from $28 billion to $14 billion.

He said Nixon's economic critics were either unrealistic or attempting to make a political issue of the economy by demanding an immediate turn around after eight years of federal fiscal mismanagement.

"Many of these same critics were silent and apparently unconcerned when unemployment soared above 5% in the early part of the 1960's," said Smith. "It took a sharp escalation of our military effort in Vietnam in 1964-65 to bring unemployment under 5%."

Smith said it was an exercise in futility to continue to argue whether or not the country has experienced a full-blown recession. He said some persons have suffered in terms of reduced savings and profits and loss of jobs, but for most others it has been business as usual.

"It would be foolhardy to suggest there are no remaining question marks in our economy."

EL JARABE TAPATIO. Miss Connie Becerra and Jim Segobiano perform the Mexican Hat Dance, one of two feature numbers the couple will present at the Mexican Fiesta at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Venice-Madison American Legion Hall. The public is invited to attend the fiesta celebration.

Mexican Fiesta To Mark Country's Independence

The Mexican Honorary Commission of Granite City will stage its annual September "Fiesta Night" at 8 p.m. Saturday, in the Venice-Madison American Legion Hall, 740 Broadway, Venice, to commemorate the 160th Anniversary of the Independence of Mexico.

The public is invited to the traditional affair which spotlights the talents of youthful and adult performers in a colorful variety show. Dancing to the Latin American music of Los Hermanos Santacruz band will take place after the program.

Tickets may be obtained in advance at several local business places, or may be purchased at the door immediately before show time at a cost of $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children.

Guest of Honor

Steve Ortiz, commission president, today announced that Miss Ana Maria Barning, Mexican consul in St. Louis, will be the special guest of honor at Saturday's fiesta.

The celebration observes the 160th anniversary of Mexico's independence, which started Sept. 16, 1810, when a small group of freedom fighters, without arms or equipment, began a march to the Guanajuato mining center.

At Atotonilco, Mexico, the leader of the revolution, Don Miguel Hidalgo Costilla, gave the patriots a cloth flag bearing the image of the Virgin of Guadalupe, which was carried with them as the symbol of freedom.

Farmers working in the fields joined the impoverished army, along with the San Miguel el Grande Regiment of the Reina. Upon reaching Celaya, Mexico, the small band of patriots had grown to more than 50,000, who marched in review before the revolutionary leaders and began the lengthy battle for liberation.

More than 40 young people from the local community will perform in the fiesta variety program, according to Mrs. Antonia Lopez, director of the artistic group. Authentic costumes will be worn by the performers who will entertain with legendary folk songs and traditional dance numbers, the director said.

Assisting Mrs. Lopez in arranging the show are Miss Lisa Garcia and Mrs. Barbara Valencia. Mrs. Helen Valencia is in charge of costumes.

Serving as general ticket chairman is A. L. "Pete" Metcalfe. Other committee chairmen are Linda Garcia, Kitchen; Joe Becerra, bar; and Felipe Jalme, decorations.

Maria Castillo Scanlan will sing the national anthem to open the show, with Hank Lopez serving as master-of-ceremonies.

Ottwein Approves SIU-SW Action to Curb Use of Cars

State Sen. Merrill Ottwein (R-Edwardsville) has expressed satisfaction over the initial steps taken by the administration at SIU-SW in response to the car accident, in which a university auto was taken by students to a convention in Philadelphia.

In action following the happening, the University suspended all student use of cars until responsibility for the incident could be determined with a view towards re-evaluation of restrictions and general principles of automobile use.

Senator Ottwein said that he had received a great number of telephone calls and personal communications following the incident and still receives letters from his constituents expressing disbelief and protest over the incident. He also said that he had sent an earlier request to the Chancellor asking for quick determination of responsibility and appropriate disciplinary action. Today a letter was sent commending the quick action taken by the Chancellor.

Senator Ottwein said that over a period of months he had received complaints from constituents over alleged misuse of automobile privileges by the campus.

The subject was discussed in the spring session where appropriations were considered and directives were sent encouraging college administration to closely control automobile usage.

"The taxpaying public," he said, "is quickly and rightly concerned over this apparent indulgence. It's important that the University constantly keep this situation in mind in these days of dollar squeezes, it's not fair for the University to have funds loosely."

The incident in question only served to add to the mistrust and to the antagonism. It's unfortunate that it occurred. The University and its public image was well served by the quick action taken by the administration. We expect it to be followed by appropriate disciplinary action," Ottwein said.

Rescued Man Improved

Charles M. Schafer, 47, of Roxana, who was rescued from his small auto which had overturned into a backwater stretch of Horseshoe Lake on Sept. 5, has been released from St. Mary's Hospital in Richmond Heights, Mo. He reported "feeling very good," although still suffering aches and pains from his underwater experience. He was unconscious when pulled from the car by passersby.

Marine Band to Play Sunday at Assumption

The United States Marine Band will present concerts at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. Sunday at Assumption high school, Routes 111 and 80, under the sponsorship of the Catholic Band Parents.

Tickets for the afternoon concert are $1.50 for adults ($2 at door) and for the evening concert, $2 for adults ($2.50 at door) and $1 for bleachers ($1.50 at door). They may be obtained by contacting the school.

It will be the second appearance of the band, conducting an annual tour, at Assumption as the red-coated musicians played before capacity audiences at the school.

Not proceeds after band expenses are paid will benefit the high school band.

Philip M. Atkins, Assumption band director and chairman for the program, announced that the Marine band will present musical works by the world's finest composers, stirring marches and solo performers which have brought acclaim from visiting dignitaries of almost every country in the world.

Under the direction of Lt. Col. Albert Schoepfer, the Marine Band is known to millions of Americans through its annual tours, its frequent radio and television appearances and its concert series in the nation's capital.

The annual tours originated under the direction of John Philip Sousa in 1891. Given the title "The President's Own" by Thomas Jefferson, the Marine band has played for every inauguration since. Created in 1798 by an Act of Congress, the band has played for official functions in Washington and at all important history-making events in this country.

The uniforms are distinctive as the band is the only military organization still wearing red coats copied from the British during the Revolutionary War. The full dress uniform which will be worn during the concert, consists of blue frock coats and a colorful scarlet coat decorated with black braid and silver epaulettes.
